13. Holly McHone Jewelers

1150 Commercial St.

It's Valentine's Day in four days! Starting today, Holly McHone Jewelers will give a rose, a card that says "I Love You" one thousand times, literally, and two cupcakes for any purchase over $150! Sweets for sweethearts!

14. RiverSea Gallery

1160 Commercial St.

Eric Wiegardt, an internationally known artist from Ocean Park, Washington, celebrates his new book, "Painting Without a Net," with a solo show of watercolors and will be signing book copies. French native Marie-Helene Rake, jewelry artist, presents a trunk show of silver jewelry with embellishments of gold and gemstones. Her designs evolve from the juxtaposition of geometric shapes with organic texture.

15. The Art Stall

1268 Commercial St.

Stop by and see what's new and have some refreshments. If you have not gotten your sweetheart a sweet treat yet, please come by and check out our recent addition of Moonstruck Chocolate. In time for Valentine's Day, there is something for everyone.

16. Tempo Gallery

1271 Commercial St.

Featured artist Phyllis Taylor recently spent a day aboard the buoy tender Ironwood. Her new watercolors capture the energy of the Tongue Point Job Corps crew. Stop by to enjoy these paintings and listen to Denise Reed play keyboard and sing.

Featuring the work of eight local artists, everyone is sure to find something intriguing, including fantastical paintings, photographs of local scenes, whimsical lamps created from horns, found-object art from along the Columbia River, welded sea life sculptures and stained-glass mosaics.

20. First Presbyterian Church

1103 Grand Ave.

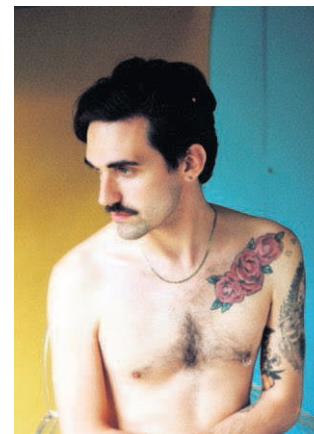

Makers Bazaar and big sale, where you'll find a room full of vendors selling all kinds of goodies: art, vintage curiosities, handmade delights and marvelous pies to enjoy. Coffee and tea, too.

See the body in a nude light

ASTORIA — LightBox Photographic Gallery (1045 Marine Drive) opens "The Photographic Nude 2018" with an opening artists' reception 6 to 9 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 10. The exhibit runs through Wednesday, March the eighth year of an international exhibit, a collection of artistic prints exploring the body and its relationship to the creation of photography.

LightBox established "The Photographic Nude" as a series of compelling and revealing works. The hope was to bring appreciation of the medium of photography and to gain an understanding of the theme historically in the photographic art form as well as to bring recognition to the current photographers who practice their art with the theme of the nude.

With a total of 50 images selected for the exhibit from 38 photographers, the show represents many talented practitioners of the photographic fine art nude from around the world.

This year's exhibit was juried by Christa Blackwood of Austin, Texas. Christa Blackwood is an acclaimed photo-based artist whose photographs of male nudes reference identity, photographic/art history and popular culture.

All accepted images to "The Photographic Nude 2018" will be published in the upcoming Spring edition of Blur magazine, an online magazine promoting international fine art photography, located in Zagreb, Croatia.
