

Ceramics, mixed media, pen-and-ink at Hoffman Gallery

MANZANITA — Through March, the Hoffman Center Art Gallery is featuring mixed media by Dennis Worrel, pen-and-ink drawings by Reed Wilson and textured ceramics by North Coast potters. The show runs 2 to 5 p.m. every Friday and Saturday, March 2 through 30.

An artists' reception will be held 2 to 5 p.m. Saturday, March 3, and the public is invited!

Worrel's recent works, called "Remembrances," stem from his interest in the Oregon Coast, his home for the past 20 years. Working with paint, ink and graphite, Dennis reimagines memories and stories left behind by those who came here to work in the woods, mills, rails and small towns. His intention is to deepen our connection by merging stories we bring with memories and stories from people who came before us.

Wilson, a physician and lifelong illustrator, will show his delicate and detailed postage stamp-sized pen-and-ink drawings of moths.

Ten North Coast ceramists will show work that illustrates how incorporating texture into ceramic adds depth, interest and story.

The Hoffman Center Art Gallery is a program of the not-for-profit Hoffman Center for the Arts (594 Laneda Ave.) in Manzanita. The gallery is free.
