

Photos by Jeff Ter Har/For The Daily Astorian

Seaside players and coaches celebrate with fans after the Gulls' 48-44 win over Valley Catholic to secure their second state title in as many years.

BACK-TO-BACK CHAMPIONS

SEASIDE BOYS EDGE VALLEY CATHOLIC FOR STATE TITLE

STORY ON SPORTS • PAGE 10A

The Gulls plot strategy during a timeout.

Seaside's Beau Johnson sets up for a shot against Valley Catholic.

State lawmakers will mull bills to protect gun retailers

Age restrictions could violate law

By PARIS ACHEN
Capital Bureau

PORTLAND — State legislative leaders say they are willing to change Oregon law to protect retailers that voluntarily restrict gun and ammunition sales to customers 21 and older. Under state and federal law, Oregonians 18 and older can buy rifles and shotguns, and the ammunition for those firearms. You must be at least 21 to buy a handgun and handgun ammunition.

Oregon Labor Commissioner Brad Avakian has concluded gun retailers that have stopped selling to customers younger than 21 in the wake of recent mass shootings could be violating the state's anti-discrimination laws.

The decision could be challenged at the Bureau of Labor and Industries or in a court complaint. Oregon has made exemptions to the

See GUN RETAILERS, Page 7A

EO Media Group

Retailers that restrict long gun sales to customers 21 or older could be violating Oregon's anti-discrimination laws.

A massage for Fido

Tews offers in-home pet massage

By EVE MARX
For The Daily Astorian

SEASIDE — Looking to do a little extra for your pet or help other animals?

Kim Tews is the proprietor of Curly Tail Pet Massage, offering in-home massage therapy for pets on the North Coast and the greater Portland area. Tews is a graduate of the Northwest School of Animal Massage. Originally from Wisconsin, she came to people

EVERYDAY

Seaside to start her business in 2016.

"I offer mobile animal massage therapy to pets to help them relax, heal and maintain their levels of health and well-being," she said.

An active volunteer and board member of Pacific Pug Rescue, Tews is also a foster home provider for pugs who have been rescued. "Animals

See TEWS, Page 7A

Curly Tails Pet Massage

Kim Tews works on her cocker spaniel, Hugo, as a guest looks on.

Sanborn Building in Astoria changes hands

Partnership sells off properties after Mitchum's death

By EDWARD STRATTON
The Daily Astorian

Luottamus Partners, the downtown real estate company run by the late William "Mitch" Mitchum and Rose Marie Paavola, has sold the Sanborn Building at 10th and Commercial streets in downtown Astoria to Portland-based MH Real Estate.

"I plan to honor the legacy of the former late owner

Mitch Mitchum by doing everything I can to support my tenants, other small-business owners and local charities and organizations," Michael Hsiao, the new owner, said.

Paavola and Mitchum's widow, Marie, have been selling off Luottamus Partners' downtown properties since his death in 2015. The partnership still owns

See BUILDING, Page 7A

