

Spring into fashion Mother's Day weekend

WARRENTON — Mark your calendars for Mother's Day weekend.

The American Association of University Women's third annual "Spring into Fashion" show takes place 2 to 4 p.m. Saturday, May 12, at the Astoria Golf & Country Club.

Tickets are available from Seaside AAUW members, at Beach Books in Seaside and by contacting Linda Schaeffer at shar-lu1@hotmail.com for the price of $30 per adult, $2 per student. All proceeds go to local scholarships.

Twelve merchants from Cannon Beach and Seaside will select the latest fashions for you to enjoy. Models include men, children and women.

An exciting variety of raffle items donated by local merchants and artists will add to the fun. New this year is a Wine Wall with bottles of wine worth $25 or more. Wine connoisseurs will pay $25 — and may get lucky and receive a bottle worth much more!

In addition, there will be goodies to savor, including tea sandwiches, sweets and beverages.

The "Breaking Barriers" award will be presented for the third year to a woman who has shown leadership and been recognized for promoting equity for girls and women through advocacy, education, philanthropy and research. This year's honoree will be the honorable Judge Dawn McIntosh.

Judge Dawn McIntosh

McIntosh has worked in the juvenile and child abuse units in Multnomah and Clatsop counties and was named the Oregon District Attorneys Association Child Abuse

Prosecutor of the Year. She has taught at Clatsop Community College and was a founding member of Clatsop County's Lighthouse for Kids, an assessment center for abused children.

Plan now to purchase your tickets and join the fun and inspiration at "Spring into Fashion." It is perfect for mothers, dads, grandmothers, daughters and the whole family as part of a Mother's Day celebration.
