

doggiedoo-do's&don'ts

Astoria Sunday Market is a dog-gone friendly place. We are also a bustling and lively affair so not all dogs will be wagging their tails during their stay. If you have a nervous dog or one that is not well socialized please consider leaving him (or her) at home.

Here are a few Doggie Doo-do's and Don'ts to help make your visit more enjoyable for yourself, your pup, the vendors and everyone visiting the Market.

1. Short Leash: Please keep your dog on a short leash and do not use retractable leashes. The Market is a crowded place and it is easy for other visitors to trip over leashes (or your dog).

2. No Doo-Doo Allowed: Please be sure your dog has been thoroughly walked in an appropriate area before coming to the Market. If your dog has taken care of his business at home he or she is less likely to need a relief at the Market. If Mother Nature does call, please PLEASE clean up after your dog. We have doggie-emergency cleaning kits at the Cargo Trailer by the Food Court and by the Portable Office parked at Duane and 12th.

3. No "tinkling" on vendor products or tents! (One would think this doesn't need to be spelled out but alas...) Please curb your dog. Some of our vendors charge dog-owners a cleaning fee of $50 or more and the Market supports them in this endeavor.

4. Inquisitive Noses: Dogs follow their noses, especially around food. We request that dogs and their noses be kept away from our food vendor booths. We suggest having a partner sit with the dog at one of the tables while you find your favorite snack or meal.

5. Not Everyone is Nuts About Mutts: Please remember that not everyone loves dogs the way you do and some people may even be afraid of dogs – especially the large breeds. No matter how sweet and adorable you know your pooch to be, please be respectful of others.

We strive to maintain a fun and pleasant environment for everyone and with your cooperation we can continue being dog-gone friendly!

Please help us keep the Market safe by obeying our crossing guards located at 12th & Duane. They are there to help keep pedestrian traffic flowing safely.
