Back to Japan for spring: lots of small Japanese furniture, wooden boxes, Japanese indigo, vintage kimonos, Japanese signs and ceramics.

8. Forsythea Home & Garden Art1124 Commercial St.

"Water Inspired" images by Annie Eskelin. "Since moving to the area three years ago, seascapes have been a constant in my art," Eskelin said. "I like to start painting without any preconceived notion as to what I am going to create. This method allows for exploration and self-expression. In this series, I feel that my deep connection to the coast dominates, especially to the water."

9. RiverSea Gallery1160 Commercial St.

Presenting Northwest artist Erik Sandgren to his first solo show at RiverSea Gallery. His paintings capture the drama of sky and water energy and explore the deep layers of history and myth that underlie the North Coast landscape. In the Alcove, Claire Bandfield shows a series of Romance, incorporating Murano glass and bronze is a perfect way to bring in the season. Cast clay hangings by Jeanne Dana feature spring florals, sea life and portraits, all one-of-a-kind. Live music with Scheckpea, debuting their recently released CD. Tarot card readings by Judith.

11. The Art Stall1268 Commercial St.

Please join us for refreshments and check out the work of 20 local artists. I have three display spaces available for original art, so it's a good time to see what goes on here and inquire about that. Also, treat yourself to Moonstruck Chocolates, the best chocolate truffles around (they're great for gifts, too). Hope to see you!

12. Tempo Gallery1271 Commercial St.

Local photographer, Carol Smith, is showing a retrospective of her favorite photographs, plus some great new photographs of Saddle Mountain. Stop in and visit with Smith and enjoy her photography. David Drury will play classical guitar 5 to 6 p.m.

13. Old Town Framing Company1287 Commercial St.

Oil paintings by Jane Adams, pastoral landscapes and settings. The Lower Columbia Q Center will be in the house with information galore.
