

Feeling featherbrained?

FORT STEVENS — Join an International Migratory Bird Day hike with a state park ranger at Fort Stevens State Park 9 to 10:30 a.m. Sunday, May 13. Participants will meet at Battery Russell.

No birding experience is required, and experts are welcome to share their knowledge.

Binoculars are recommended; organizers will have a few extra on hand.

For more information, contact Park Ranger Dane Osis at 503-861-3170 extension 41 or dane.osis@oregon.gov.

An art book

Find a new art book at the college library

ASTORIA — The Dora Badollet Library at Clatsop Community College will celebrate the addition of new art books to its collection with a public reception 4 to 6 p.m. Tuesday, May 15.

Light refreshments will be provided. Join the festivities, discover an artist and find inspiration with a new book!

Each year the library receives free art books from Art Resources Transfer, an organization that distributes "materials on art and cultural issues to public, school and alternative libraries in rural and inner-city areas through the Distribution to Underserved Communities Library program."

Scores of art books will be on display, including works on Carol Bove, Walker Evans, LaToya Ruby Frazier, Mona Ha-toum, Huang Yong Ping and

Fred Sandback. An engaging week of art activities continues 6 p.m. Thursday, May 17, with the opening of the 2018 Annual Student Art Show at the Royal Ne-beker Gallery.

The library is located at the college, 1680 Lexington Ave.

Dig for razor clams at Fort Stevens

An enthusiastic young digger of razor clams

FORT STEVENS — Fort Stevens State Park is offering a program on how to dig razor clams 7 to 9 a.m. Friday, May 18, and 8 to 10 a.m. Saturday, May 19.

The program will cover regulations and digging techniques for the razor clam. Participants should meet on the beach at the Peter Iredale shipwreck.

A limited number of clam guns will be available. A valid Oregon Shellfish license is required for anyone 12 and older who wants to dig.

For more information, contact Park Ranger Dane Osis at 503-861-3170 extension 41, or dane.osis@oregon.gov.
