Committee formed for countywide housing study

The Daily Astorian

A 20-member technical advisory committee has begun discussing a countywide housing study.

Last year, Clatsop County and each of the county's five cities approved a $100,000 study to evaluate the area's housing needs. The county pitched in $50,000 while the cities contributed $10,000 each.

Warrenton Mayor Henry Balensifer is the committee's chairman, and Cannon Beach City Councilor Brandon Ogilvie is the vice chairman. The committee is made up of elected officials and government, business and nonprofit heads.

Johnson Economics, a Portland consulting firm, was hired in March to lead the study, which is expected to be finished by November. Consultants will study the types, sizes, locations and prices needed for housing as well as the market forces, regulations and other barriers that prevent development.

Area residents may participate through an open house, online survey or by attending the committee's public meetings. Up-to-date information can be found at www.co.clatsop.or.us.

Race will shut down Astoria Riverwalk

The Daily Astorian

An annual race will shut down the Astoria Riverwalk and impact some roads and surrounding neighborhoods Sunday.

The Riverwalk will be closed to all traffic — both pedestrian and bicycle — from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m. to make way for more than 600 runners who will be competing in the fifth annual Run on the River, an event organized by the Astoria Parks, Recreation and Community Foundation and sponsored by Buoy Beer.

The race includes half-marathon, 10K and 5K options. Slots to participate in the race are sold out, but the Astoria Parks and Recreation Department encourages people to attend and cheer on the runners.

The run is largest event the foundation organizes. The foundation raises money for scholarships that go to individuals and families to pay for parks programs.

The race raised more than $30,000 alone last year and contributed to nearly 1,000 scholarships for youth swim lessons, family fitness memberships and team sports registrations. The event has raised $45,000 so far this year.

The event starts at 8:30 a.m.

George E. Siverson, 91, of Astoria, died on May 8, 2018, in Astoria.

Siverson was born in Astoria on Sept. 4, 1926, the son of Christian A. and Lydia Johnson Siverson. He lived his entire life in Astoria, where he attended public schools.

He began working in the fishing industry by working fish traps with his father. He later became a gillnet fisherman on the Columbia River, and fished as a commercial fisherman in Bristol Bay, Alaska.

He enlisted in the Army during World War II, and served in the Philippines and Japan before his honorable discharge in 1946.

George was married in Astoria, in 1951, to the former Almeda Jane Polehn. She preceded him in death in 2008.

George was a member of the Scandinavian Benevolent Society, Friends of the Columbia River Maritime Museum, and the Uniontown Association. His special hobbies and interests included anything to do with fishing or sports, including college football and the Portland Trail Blazers.

Siverson is survived by a sister-in-law, Shi-ena Polehn of Medford, Oregon; a cousin, June Dickson of Palm Desert, California; numerous nieces and nephews; and a caregiver and friend, Vicki Ramsey of Astoria.

In addition to his wife Almeda, he was preceded in death by his sister, Norma Bennett, and brother-in-law, Culley Polehn.

By his prior request, there will be no formal public memorial. Private burial will be at Ocean View Cemetery in Warrenton.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Astoria Scandinavian Historical Society, the Astoria Senior Center, Loaves and Fishes, or Meals on Wheels, all in care of Ocean View Funeral & Cremation Services, 1213 Franklin Ave., Astoria, OR 97103, or to your own favorite charity.
