

ACRES OF CRANBERRY BOGS ON THE PENINSULA

A tiny red berry is big time from Seaview and Ilwaco, east to Chinook and north to the Ocean Park area. It's a cranberry. The little berry is so big that the annual Cranberrian Fair is held in its honor.

Cranberries make up a big part of the Peninsula's personality, so much so that it's impossible to imagine our home without its distinctive and colorful cranberry fields.

A celebration of local harvest including all things cranberry will take place on the Long Beach Peninsula, centered around the Columbia Pacific Heritage Museum in Ilwaco, on Oct. 13 and 14, from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. Foods, crafters, bog tours, and more will showcase the area's rich heritage during the annual Cranberrian Fair. Collectible Cranberrian Fair buttons are $5 each and cover admission to all events at the Columbia Pacific Heritage Museum. The Cranberry Museum is free.

The museum's gift shop is stocked with cranberry goodies. Watch the red berry harvest as part of the fair.

For more information call 360-642-3446 or visit columbiapacificheritagemuseum.org

Jamye Lucier
Managing Broker
360-904-6509
jamye@pacreal.com

Pacific Realty

Free sunsets with every purchase

GO COASTAL!

PACIFIC REALTY

#1 Selling Office, #1 Selling Broker 2016 & 2017
on the Long Beach Peninsula
Modest homes to Grand Residences

Search all area listings at www.pacreal.com
New Listings Every Day!

800-349-5446 • 360-642-3127
102 Bolstad Ave. E., Long Beach

Member NWMLS

PACIFIC REALTY PROPERTY MANAGEMENT

Vacation & Long-Term Rentals

- Ocean Front & View Vacation Homes
- All Non-smoking Homes
- Select Pet Friendly Homes
- Larger Homes - Up to 12 Guests!

888-879-5479 • 360-642-4549

www.parentals.com

Stop By for a FREE
 Tide Book &
 Local Area Map

