Man arrested after fleeing police

By JACK HEFFERNAN
The Daily Astorian

A man who led police on a car chase Tuesday afternoon before hiding out overnight in Hamlet was arrested this morning.

Police in northern Tillamook County attempted to stop a car that was driving southbound on U.S. Highway 101. The driver refused to stop, eventually turning around and heading north, Oregon State Police Lt. Andrew Merila said.

Police tried at least twice to stop the driver but ended the pursuit for safety reasons. The car reached speeds near 100 mph and nearly collided with other cars, Merila said.

The driver then turned onto U.S. Highway 26. Driving eastbound about 2 p.m., the driver lost control of the car, flipped over and landed in a ditch on the side of the road near Hamlet.

"We heard the brakes and everything, and we heard the car flip over," said Rosemary Faust, who lives near the scene of the accident. "They don't have cell service out here, so when we see a car in a ditch, we try to see what happened and help out. It wasn't until later that we found out what was going on."

After attempting to steal a woman's car, the man ran away from the scene along the highway. Police cars and sirens followed about three minutes later, Faust said.

Police from three different counties then used a dog and an airplane to try to find the man in the woods.

"Ultimately, after many, many hours, we called the search off," Clatsop County Sheriff's Sgt. Jason Hoover said.

About 6:15 a.m. today, Faust saw a man on her deck that appeared to match the description police had given. On the rainy morning, he appeared to have his hands in his pockets and was shivering, Faust said. She asked him what he wanted, and he asked for a phone and jacket.

"I said, 'No, go away,' and shut the door," Faust said. She then called police, who arrested the man about an hour later as he was attempting to break in to a neighbor's garage.

Police, who are still conducting interviews, have not released the man's name and have yet to determine charges.

Faust, who kept in touch with neighbors throughout the ordeal, said she was relieved the man was caught.

"You know, the neighbors out here are pretty friendly," Faust said. "So everybody kept in touch and tried to figure out what was going on."

OBITUARIES

Melvin N. Maki

Warrenton

May 11, 1940 — June 4, 2018

We are sad to announce the passing of our twinkle-eyed, fun-loving father, Melvin N. Maki, 78, who was born to Arvid E. and Gertrude M. Maki (Sotka) on May 11, 1940.

Mel loved his Finnish heritage, and was a proud graduate of Astoria High School in 1958. He received a bachelor's degree from the University of Oregon, and a master's degree from Portland State University in business and engineering. He was a master of numbers.

Working with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (dredging), and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (ocean floor surveying), had him traveling all over the U.S. and out on the ocean, which he loved dearly.

He is survived by his adoring family in Portland, Helvetia and Clackamas, Oregon.

A loving service will be held at 2 p.m. Friday, June 15, 2018, at Hughes-Ransom Mortuary, 576 12th St. in Astoria. A graveside service will follow at Greenwood Cemetery in Astoria. All are invited.

In lieu of flowers, because of our father's love of the ocean, remembrances may be made to the Columbia River Maritime Museum in Astoria. "In memory of Melvin N. Maki." crmm.org

Sally Elsie Mohr

Warrenton

Jan. 11, 1955 — June 7, 2018

On June 7, the Earth lost a warrior and the heavens rejoiced. Sally E. Mohr was called home by her Lord and savior to join her parents, Robert Nudo and Josephine Barbirotto, brother, Bobby Nudo, and grandson, Gavin James.

Sally was the strongest person that we've ever known. For too many years she suffered in silence, smiled through the pain and battled illness. Something you would never know, because none of that stopped her from being the brightest light in the room.

She had a heart of gold, and you could always count on her for anything — food, shelter, comfort, advice, and above all, honesty. She was unwavering, and made no apologies; she stood by her beliefs and choices in life. Over the years we have learned to lean on her wisdom and strength; she has been our rock and our constant.

Sally has touched more than the lives in our family, her love and commitment has reached out to the community through many church outreaches. One that stands out more than others is feeding those in need. For seven years, Sally and her husband planned, prepared and served meals every Wednesday night. There are so many ways she made a difference, too many to count ...

Sally is survived by her devoted husband of 40 years, Paul A. Mohr; brother, Tom Nudo, and his wife, Teresa Nudo; sister, Sharon Ashley, and her husband, Lee Ashley; sister-in-law, Debbie Nudo; the niece and nephew whom she was like a mother to, Shannah Wright her husband, Alan Wright, and Sean James and his wife, Jennifer James; grandchildren, Chelsi, Brittany, AJ, Tyler, Bryan, Ashton, Josiah, Jeremiah and Olivia; great-grandchildren, Temprynne and Marie; nieces, Julie Smith, Kari Reynolds and Crystal Garcia; nephew, Matt Haskill; and countless cousins.

Please honor Sally by loving one another and putting family first.

If Sally has touched your life, her family invites you to join them on Monday, June 18, at 3 p.m., at Caldwell's Mortuary in Astoria, to pay your final respects. Thank you, and God bless.

Caldwell's Luce-Layton Mortuary is in charge of the arrangements. Please sign our online guest book at caldwellsmortuary.com
