

Westport Winery holds Fleur de Lis Festival

ABERDEEN, WASH. — Westport Winery will hold its annual Fleur de Lis Festival 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, June 16, at the winery's garden resort at 1 S. Arbor Road, on the corner of Washington State Route 105, halfway between Aberdeen and Westport, Wash.

This celebration of the resort's 10,000 blooming irises offers activities for all ages, including a sculpture unveiling at 5:30 p.m. followed by live music from Six Pack Pretty on the patio from 6 to 8 p.m. The concert is free; all ages are welcome.

The Grays Harbor and Pacific Counties' Master Gardeners will host a free plant clinic teaching guests how to dig, divide and transplant irises, using starts from the winery's 15-acre display garden.

Local artist and sculpture garden contributor Jeffro Uitto will display and sell his wood carvings during this event. Other vendors include The Jerky Gal, The Fancy Accent Tea Company, Olympic Mountain Ice Cream (with free samples), LuLaRoe, Sassy Seafood and Jill Haney-Neal.

Neal, an artist, recently completed two new labels for the winery. Known for her Wild (but tasteful) Women drinking wine series, she was commissioned to create these labels. The new Duckleberry Grunt vintage will be released at this event with Neal available to sign bottles and posters. Neal will have her fabulous prints, mugs, and cards available in the winery's sunroom.

The Olympic Mountain Ice Cream sampling will launch the winery's designation as the latest location for the creamery's fans to purchase ice cream to go. They are even creating their own Duckleberry Grunt sorbet!

Lora and Kim Malakoff will unveil their latest sculpture in the winery's Something Blue Garden. This new sculpture commemorates the wine True North. Lora has previously installed sculptures for Peaches on the Beaches, Bella and, fittingly, Fleur de Lis. There are more than 60 sculptures by local artists in the resort's gardens.

Meanwhile, Six Pack Pretty combines soaring vocals, big guitars, a powerhouse rhythm section and a taste for good times! Whether it's classic rock or modern hits, the band is guaranteed to have the crowd dancing and singing along.

Pancakes with pops support Boy Scouts

ASTORIA — On Father's day weekend, Boy Scout Troop 211 of Astoria is preparing for Scout Camp with a pancake breakfast, 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. Saturday, June 16, at the Masonic Lodge, 1572 Franklin Ave.

Pancakes, sausages, scrambled eggs and beverages are included for $6 per person, $4 for ages 62 and older and $20 for families (children 5 and younger eat free).

Proceeds support the scouts and their activities. Tickets are available at the door.

Give a Scout an experience that's bigger than any electronic screen. Introduce him to the outdoors. Some will tie their first square knot at camp. Some will catch, clean and cook their first fish at camp. Others will shoot their first .22, speed down their first zip line or mountain bike their first single track — all at camp. No matter what, a Boy Scout camp is where adventure and learning are the same thing. For more information about this event or other Fort Clatsop District Boy Scouts of America programs, contact Sam Rascoe at 503-791-8134.
