

Military members get free admission to Heritage Museum through Labor Day

ILWACO, WASH. — The Columbia Pacific Heritage Museum is participating in the ninth annual Blue Star Museums — a collaboration among the National Endowment for the Arts, Blue Star Families, the U.S. Department of Defense and more than 2,000 museums across the country — to offer free admission to the nation's active duty military personnel and their families through Labor Day, Sept. 3.

This year's participating museums represent not just fine arts museums, but also science museums, history museums, zoos, nature centers and children's museums. Museums are welcome to sign up for Blue Star Museums throughout the summer by emailing bluestarmuseums@arts.gov.

The free-admission program is available for people currently serving in the U.S. military: Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps and Coast Guard, as well as Active Duty and Reservists, National

The 26-foot Monomoy, located in the Columbia Pacific Heritage Museum's Resource Gallery, is one type of surfboat used by the U.S. Life Saving Service at both Cape Disappointment and Ilwaco Beach stations. These sturdy boats were rowed through the surf to rescue seamen and others in distress along the beach.

Guardsman (regardless of status), U.S. Public Health Commissioned Corps, NOAA Commissioned Corps and up to five family members. Qualified members must show a Geneva Convention common access card (CAC), DD Form 1173 ID card (dependent ID) or a DD Form 1173-1 ID card for entrance into a participating Blue Star Museum.

A list of participating museums nationwide is available at arts.gov/bluestarmuseums.

'River rat' gets his own exhibition

ASTORIA — The Columbia River Maritime Museum presents a new exhibit in the Marine Art Gallery: "Rolf Klep: Artist, Author, Museum Founder."

Before he poured his energy and passion into founding the Maritime Museum, Klep enjoyed a successful career as a commercial artist and illustrator. His works appeared prominently in many of the most popular magazines (Newsweek, Colliers, Life, Look, Women's Home Companion, among many others) during his productive period of 1927 to '56.

The museum's new exhibit will feature examples of these, as well as his work as an author and illustrator of published books.

Born in Portland, Klep was a self-proclaimed "river rat" who early on became fascinated by ships, boats and water. The family moved to Astoria when Klep was 9. By 14, he got his first summer job as a deck hand on the Tourist No. 1 Ferry.
