Worwood, Hunt named Rotary Students of the Month

The Daily Astorian

The Astoria Rotary honored two Astoria High School students, Kira Worwood and Ian Hunt, as Students of the Month for June. Students of the Month are selected from the junior and senior classes at Astoria and Knappa high schools; they must be in good standing in school, and involved in school and community activities.

Worwood, the daughter of Bart and Laura Worwood, just graduated from AHS, where she was active in the Spanish Club, Business Leaders of Tomorrow, Project Homeless, Lunch Buddy Program, volleyball and swimming. She plans to attend Mount Hood Community College in the fall.

Hunt, the son of Chris and Angee Hunt, is a junior at AHS. He is involved in the Walldorf Exchange Program and participates in football, basketball and track and field. He plans to attend college after graduation.

Students of the Month receive a leadership book selected by Astoria Rotary members, an application for a Rotary Scholarship, an inspirational letter from a local Rotarian, a gift card to a local coffee establishment, and a Rotary certificate.

Astoria Rotary meets on Mondays at noon at the Elks Lodge in Astoria.

Learn to advocate and provide help to children in foster care

The Daily Astorian

Clatsop Court Appointed Special Advocates (CASA) Volunteer Training is from June 27 to July 25. Volunteers are needed to advocate for children in foster care, and to ensure that children in foster care in Clatsop County will have a safe and nurturing permanent home as soon as possible.

Training on how to make a difference in the life of a child in foster care takes a month. In person (at Clatsop Community College) and online training are combined for all learning styles. There is no cost for the classes.

For information, call 503-338-6063, email casa@clatsopcasa.org, or go to clatsopcasa.org

March of Dimes honors local nurse

The Daily Astorian

For the fourth year in a row, a Columbia Memorial Hospital nurse has been named a March of Dimes Nurse of the Year.

Margaret Santee, a 30-year employee of the hospital, was named the 2018 Case Management, Occupational Health and Utilization Review Nurse of the Year for Oregon and Southwest Washington by March of Dimes, a nonprofit focused on the health of mothers and infants.

The award goes to a nurse who reviews individual and workplace medical cases, ensuring they are getting the most appropriate care and level of support.

“Margaret’s continual commitment to the care of patients and families has brought her great success in the Care Management Department,” Erik Thorsen, CEO of the hospital, said in a release. “We can always count on her for amazing clinical expertise, caring and commitment to patients. She genuinely cares for all.”

Santee joined the hospital in 1988. Outside of work, she volunteers with the Clatsop County 4-H program and was named Leader of the Year in 2012. She is the hospital’s fourth Nurse of the Year winner, including Jenny Jacques in 2017, Kendra Gohl in 2016 and Laura Brown in 2015.
