

Steelhead retention fishery closes

The Daily Astorian

Steelhead retention is closed on the Columbia and lower John Day Rivers through the end of year as fish return in lower numbers than predicted. Oregon and Washington state fishery managers decided to close the fishery beginning today after the run size of steelhead dropped from a preseason forecast of 182,000 returning adults to 110,000. The revised estimate is lower than last year's returns of 113,000 steelhead, which was already far below recent averages. "Steelhead returns are well below expectations and this latest update just doesn't support allowing the fishery to continue as is," said Tucker Jones, manager of the Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife's Ocean Salmon and Columbia River Program. Fishery managers urge anglers to handle any steelhead they accidentally encounter with care to ensure the fish's survival. The closure runs from the mouth of the Columbia River to the Highway 395 Bridge near Pasco, Washington. It also includes the John Day River from Tumwater Falls downstream to its confluence with the Columbia River. The closure is expected to continue through the end of the year, but some restrictions could lift if the numbers improve, Jones said.

Seaside will get new emergency dispatchers

The Daily Astorian

Two of Oregon's 24 new dispatchers will work in Seaside. The Oregon Public Safety Academy held a graduation ceremony Friday in Salem for its 110th Basic Telecommunications Class. Dispatchers Xin Chen and Brittany Nelson of the Seaside Police Department are listed as two of the graduates. The two-week class teaches emergency call handling techniques, stress management, civil liability, ethics, criminal law and an overview of fire-rescue and law enforcement operations. Chen and Nelson will spend a number of months learning from a field training officer.

Robert Allan Coate

Seaside

July 24, 1941 — Aug. 17, 2018

Robert Allan Coate was born to Walter Augustus and Velma Devone Dick Coate in Portland, Oregon.

He graduated from Madison High School, received his bachelor of arts degree in health science from Ottawa University, and a master's degree in health administration from Alameda University. Robert continually sought learning opportunities, and also attended Portland Community College, Multnomah School of the Bible and the Mayo Clinic School of Anesthesia.

During an illustrious 30-year career as a certified registered nurse anesthetist, primarily in small, rural hospitals, Robert was also in the Army Reserve, from which he retired as a lieutenant colonel. At one point, he was the commander of a Mobile Army Surgical Hospital unit in Wisconsin, which was comprised of over 100 individual soldiers. Of all of Robert's career accomplishments, he was especially proud of the three times that he was able to deliver a baby.

Robert served as a deacon in the Presbyterian Church of Hereford, Texas, as well as in the Cannon Beach Community Church. Robert loved children, the outdoors, learning and teaching, but above all else he loved life, and he loved people.

He was preceded in death by his parents and a niece, Cindy.

He is survived by his wife, Shirley; daughters, Susan (Richard) Greller and Sheryl (Katherine) Coate; grandchildren, Judd (Ruth) Jones, Jacob (Cori) Jones, Haley Coate and Shawn Harrington; great-grandson, Jasper James Wells; son, Dennis (Wendy) Daniels; sister, Jacie (Jerry) McQuinn; niece, Kristen Vogeli; brother, Walter "Butch" (Cherri) Coate; nephews, Robert Coate and Christopher Coate; niece, Summer Coate; and sister-in-law and brother-in-law, Jon and Ruth Ann Newton and their children, Christi, Andrea, Matthew and Tim.

A celebration of life will be held at the Cannon Beach Community Church at a later date.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to Lewy body research, Cannon Beach Community Church or Lower Columbia Hospice.

Elizabeth Gail Gazewood

Warrenton

Dec. 2, 1937 — Aug. 19, 2018

Elizabeth Gazewood passed away peacefully at her home in Surf Pines, at the age of 80, on Aug. 19, 2018, with her husband and daughter present. Elizabeth was afflicted with advancing Alzheimer's, but a CT scan taken on July 13, 2018, revealed that Elizabeth had colon cancer that had spread to her liver, which resulted in her death.

Elizabeth was born to Thomas Earl and Callie Hazel Cornelius in Sanger, California, on Dec. 2, 1937, being the third of six children. Preceded in death by her brother, Thomas Cornelius Jr., Elizabeth is survived by her husband of 58-plus years, Robert; son, Bob Jr.; daughter, Kathleen Leader; granddaughter, Molly Gazewood; sister, Helen Marquardt; and brothers, Kenneth, James and John.

Following her graduation from Sanger High School in June 1954, Elizabeth enrolled in the pre-nursing program at Reedley College in Reedley, California. Elizabeth completed her nursing studies and training at the Highland School of Nursing in Oakland, California, in January 1959, and moved to Seattle, Washington, to practice as a registered nurse at Virginia Mason Hospital. Elizabeth's love for children caused her to specialize in pediatrics.

Elizabeth and Robert met in May 1959 at an Arthur Murray dance party for ballroom dancing students, and were married on Nov. 21, 1959, at the Shrine of St. Therese Catholic Church in Fresno, California, and throughout their marriage they exhibited their love of dancing together.

In 1960, they moved to Santa Monica, California, and Elizabeth practiced at St. John's Hospital, the hospital frequented by Hollywood stars. Before moving to Olympia, Washington, in July 1966, and practicing at St. Peter's Hospital, Elizabeth and Robert lived in Fresno, California, and Elizabeth practiced at Valley Children's Hospital while Robert finished college at Fresno State.

In November 1980, Elizabeth and Robert moved to Clatsop County, where they built their home in the Surf Pines community in 1982.

Elizabeth was a devoted and loving wife, mother and grandmother, and she is deeply missed. She loved animals and birds, flowers, gardening and was staunchly pro-life.

She was an avid reader of books of all subject matters, with many books related to her Irish heritage. Elizabeth was the consummate Irish lady with her wit, sense of humor, laughter, smiling eyes and mischievous smile.

Elizabeth was always giving to others, as she dedicated many long hours of volunteer work for charity groups, such as the Providence Seaside Hospital Auxiliary, serving as secretary, vice president, president and buyer for the gift shop. Elizabeth single-handedly organized, typed and edited a cookbook for the auxiliary for fundraising purposes in 2007.

In 2004, Elizabeth joined the Society of St. Vincent de Paul Conference at Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church, providing food and financial assistance to the poor and needy. Elizabeth volunteered at the St. Vincent de Paul Conference food pantry, and at St. Mary, Star of the Sea in Astoria, also.

A funeral Mass will be held at Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church in Seaside, Oregon, at 11 a.m. Wednesday, Aug. 29, 2018. A rosary will precede the mass at 10:30 a.m. in the church, and viewing of Elizabeth will take place at 10 a.m. in the church.

A reception will be held immediately following the funeral Mass in the Parish Hall. Following the reception, graveside services will take place at Evergreen Cemetery, south of Seaside, 33395 Beerman Creek Road.

Memorial donations may be made to Our Lady of Victory St. Vincent de Paul Conference, Seaside, Oregon, or to St. Mary, Star of the Sea St. Vincent de Paul Conference, Astoria, Oregon.

Funeral arrangements are in the care of Hughes-Ransom Mortuary and Crematory, Seaside, Oregon. Please visit hughes-ransom.com to sign the online guest book.
