

COURTESY ASTORIA LIBRARY
Jennifer Burns Bright.

Why DIY? Discuss at Astoria Library

ASTORIA — Are we as self-sufficient as we can be? As we should be? What are the pleasures and pitfalls of doing it yourself?

At 3 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 20, at the Astoria Library, participate in a free discussion investigating why we strive to be makers and doers in a world that provides more conveniences than ever before.

The conversation will be facilitated by Jennifer Burns Bright, a food educator and travel writer based in Port Orford.

This program is part of Oregon Humanities' statewide Conversation Project.

The Astoria Library is at 450 10th St. For information about library programs, contact 503-325-7323 or visit astorialibrary.org.

Celebrity librarian Nancy Pearl.

Shhhhh! A celebrity librarian is speaking

NEHALEM — regon Public Broadcasting's "State of Wonder" is coming to Nehalem at 7 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 20, when host April Baer interviews author Nancy Pearl at the North County Recreation District's Performing Arts Center, 36155 Ninth St. Doors open at 6:30 p.m.

Pearl is a National Public Radio contributor and has been called "America's Librarian."

After the event, there will be an opportunity to purchase Pearl's books and get them signed.

Admission is $25. Tickets are available online at hoffmanarts.org, or from library board members and

COURTESY MANZANITA WRITERS' SERIES
'State of Wonder' host April Baer.

Manzanita Writers' Series volunteers.

Proceeds benefit the Manzanita Writers' Series and the North Tillamook Library Friends.

COURTESY CANNON BEACH HISTORY CENTER & MUSEUM
Artwork capturing human migration into North America.

When were the Americas settled?

CANNON BEACH — International Archaeology Day comes to Cannon Beach with a presentation by Cameron Smith at 4 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 20, at the Cannon Beach History Center & Museum.

Smith, an anthropology professor at Portland State University, is a scholar on human history, archaeology and evolution. His presentation will focus on the new discoveries in archaeology about the earliest settlements in the Americas.

Smith has appeared on PBS, History and National Geographic.

Seating is limited, so arrive early. Doors will close at 4:15 p.m.

The museum is located at 1387 South Spruce St.

Author Jan Bono signs latest mystery

ASTORIA — Author Jan Bono, of Long Beach, Wash., will have her only Oregon book signing this year at 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 20, at 3 Cups Coffee House, 279 W. Marine Drive, in Astoria.

Bono recently completed her novel "Crab Bait," the third cozy mystery in the Sylvia Avery Mystery Series set on the Southwest Washington coast.

Jan Bono

YOUR #1 PREMIER CANNABIS RETAILER

LARGEST SELECTION
FRIENDLY & KNOWLEDGEABLE STAFF
ELITE PRODUCTS

Ilwaco (8am - 10pm) 360-261-7200 133 Howerton Ave	Cathlamet - NEW! (8am - 10 pm) 360-849-4504 327 WA-4	Kelso (8am - 12am) 360-636-0420 820A West Side Hwy	Longview (8am - 12am) 360-703-3229 971 14th Ave
--	---	---	--

WARNING: This product has intoxicating effects and may be habit forming. There may be health risks associated with the consumption of this product. For use only by adults 21 and over. Keep out of reach of children. Marijuana can impair concentration, coordination, and judgement. Do not operate a vehicle or machinery under the influence of this drug.

Chat with Terry Brooks in Cannon Beach

CANNON BEACH — New York Times bestselling author Terry Brooks will be at the Cannon Beach Book Company, from 1 to 3 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 20. Come by for a chat and an autograph.

He'll be signing copies of his newest book, "Street

Freaks." Brooks has long been the grandmaster of fantasy. Now he turns his hand to science fiction. Books will be available for purchase in-store.

A worldwide sensation, Brooks is also a hometown favorite. He and his wife, Judine, are Pacific Northwesterners who live part-time on the North Coast and have been instrumental in the development of Get Lit at the Beach.

This event is free and open to the public. Cannon Beach Book Company is located at 130 N. Hemlock St., Suite No. 2.