

White Bird Gallery

251 N. Hemock Street | Cannon Beach
www.whitebirdgallery.com

Join us Saturday, Nov. 3rd for the opening of our "Northwest Minutiae" exhibit. Known for his printmaking, local artist Stirling Gorsuch is presenting his first collection of oil paintings. These dreamy vistas reflect the artist's intricate connection with the Pacific Northwest. Gorsuch translates the landscape into a vivid color experience through texture, composition and form.

Also showing is Washington artist Helga Winter who creates complex inside-out book reconstructions. Winter's colorful paper and mixed-media assemblages embody the patience, quietude and peacefulness of her process.

Stone sculptor Josh Henrie will be giving a carving demonstration from 11am to 2pm outside the gallery. Henrie's use of raw stone, smooth detail work and thoughtful chisel marks correspond to bring out the soul of the stone and the artist's deep passion for the raw beauty of the Pacific Northwest.

Join us in the afternoon for live guitar music by long-time local Wes Wahrmund. Come meet the artists and experience their work in person during our gallery reception from 5 to 7pm.

We are located at 251 N. Hemlock St. in Cannon Beach, open 7 days a week. Telephone number 503.436.2681.

View more talented artists at www.whitebirdgallery.com.

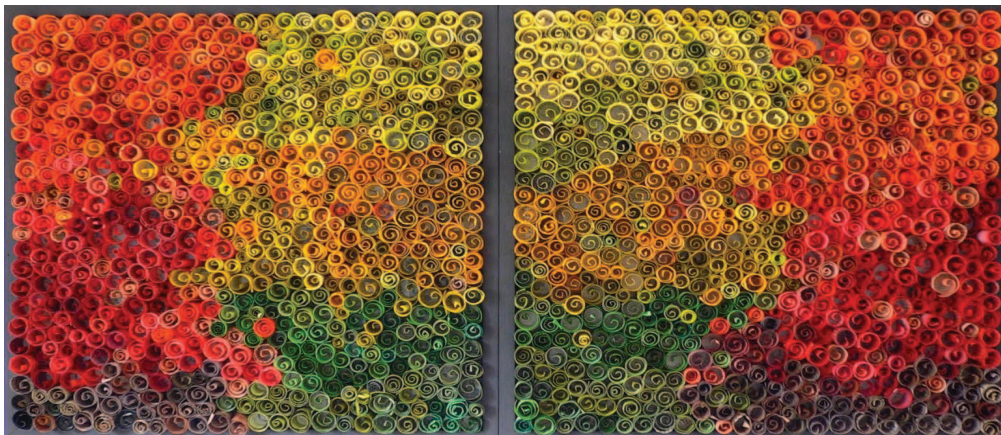

Ancient Rhythm by Stirling Gorsuch

White Bird GALLERY
CANNON BEACH, OREGON

Northwest Minutiae
November 2nd - January 7th

Oil Paintings by Stirling Gorsuch
Mixed Media/Paper by Helga Winter
Stone Sculpture by Josh Henrie

Helga Winter "Leaves"

Stirling Gorsuch "Arcadian Rhythm"

Saturday, November 3rd

Stone Carving Demo with Josh Henrie
11am to 2pm

Live Guitar Music with Wes Wahrmund
2pm - 4pm

Gallery Reception
5pm to 7pm

31st Stormy Weather Arts Festival Cannon Beach, Oregon | 11