NOTICE: Oregon Landscape Contractors Law (ORS 671) requires all businesses that advertise landscape contracting services be licensed with the Landscape Contractors Board. This 4-digit number assures the business has a bond, insurance and an associated individual contractor who has fulfilled the testing and experience requirements for licensure. For your protection call (503)378-5909 or use our web site: www.lcb.state.or.us to check license status before contracting with the business. Persons doing landscape maintenance do not require a LCB license.

Peter Iredale shipwreck.

Watery tales on a dark November night

SEASIDE — Scott Williams, the lead archaeologist for the Maritime Archaeological Society's Beeswax Wreck Project, will share tales of "Lost Castaways and Mystery Shipwrecks on the Oregon Coast" at Seaside Museum's next History and Hops at 6 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 29.

The event takes place at Seaside Brewing Co., 861 Broadway St.

Though most people first think of the Peter Iredale when the subject of local shipwrecks comes up, many other shipwrecks have occurred along the North Coast. Our "Graveyard of the Pacific" abounds with tales of mysterious shipwrecks, lost castaways, pirates and sailing vessels.

Williams will recount stories, mysteries and history that he has learned during his many archaeological forays. He will also discuss his current undertakings on the Beeswax Wreck Project.

Tales of booms, busts, recoveries at Ales & Ideas

ASTORIA — Clatsop Community College's next Ales & Ideas lecture — titled "Astoria's Economic History: A Tale of Booms, Busts, and Recoveries" — takes place 7 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 6, at the Fort George Lovell Showroom.

The presentation features the college's Small Business Development Center director, Kevin Leahy; the center's lead adviser, Jessica Hall; Clatsop WORKS paid internship program coordinator Anna Stamper; and the college's South County office manager and executive assistant, Tammy Lambert.

Anna Stamper

Kevin Leahy

Doors open with food and beverage service at 6 p.m., but no purchase is required. Minors are welcome. The showroom is at Duane and 14th streets in Astoria.

In this presentation, the audience will hear about the industries that built Astoria and Clatsop County, including downtown Astoria, from the early years to today, and learn how our community has an economic future that shines brighter with each year.
