Labor Temple hosts first-ever Winter Solstice Party

ASTORIA — Baby it's cold outside! Put on your finest black, white and silver attire and shake off those winter chills at the Labor Temple Bar's first-ever Black and White Winter Solstice Party, 8 p.m. Friday, Dec. 21.

This event is for people 21 and older. Cover is $5.

The evening starts with a champagne reception from 8 to 8:30 p.m., followed by a variety show featuring comedy with Dave Bergquist, performances by drag artist Ginger Vitus, original songs by Miss Avery and Adam Yaws, burlesque with Trixie Kerfuffle and a special appearance by magician Seth Adam Howard.

Heidie Johnson will be on site to capture guests in their winter finery in a special photo booth until 10 p.m. Costumes are encouraged.

A dance party with DJ Leslie Hardy will follow the variety show.

The Labor Temple is at 942 Duane St. For more information, email labortempleastoria@gmail.com.

COURTESY PENINSULA ARTS CENTER
Folk rocker Susannah Weaver, aka Little Sue.

Folk-rock mainstay Little Sue performs at Peninsula Arts Center

LONG BEACH, WASH. — The Peninsula Arts Centers presents Susannah Weaver at 7 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 22.

Weaver — aka, Little Sue — has been a mainstay of the Portland Americana and folk-rock scene for more than 25 years. Her quirky lyrical style, solid guitar playing and bee-stung voice have won over music lovers of every age and stripe.

With six EPs of original songs and a seventh in the making, Little Sue has developed a deep and varied catalogue of work. She has opened for the likes of Bob Dylan, Neko Case, Roger McGuinn and Loudon Wainwright III.

Tickets are $15 and available on Brown Paper Tickets, by emailing events@peninsulaartscenter.org, or by calling Bill Svendsen at 360-901-0962.

Wine, beer and other refreshments are available for purchase. Events benefit the Acoustic Music Foundation, a nonprofit organization. The arts center is at 504 Pacific Ave. N., Long Beach, Wash.
