

Damage to a vehicle burned in the Camp Fire can be seen through a broken window.

A vehicle destroyed by the fire sits near a damaged residence.

Broken glass lies scattered on the ground near the wreckage of a home.

Hazardous material specialists begin to search a residence in Paradise.

Photos by Colin Murphey/The Daily Astorian

A group of specialists working with the EPA to help clean up hazardous materials in Paradise make their way to another residence.

Members of a hazmat team working with the EPA search the remains of a home destroyed by the fire in Paradise.

Damage to a mobile home park in Paradise.