DiCicco's sounds range from bluesy folk to haunting Irish

LONG BEACH, Wash. — The Peninsula Arts Centers presents Marian DiCicco at 7 p.m. Saturday, March 16.

Influenced by the likes of Emmylou Harris, Bob Wills, Christy Moore and Mary Black, DiCicco prefers to think of each song as a story, with pictures drawn through notes and lyrics. With a mix of original compositions and covers, her sounds range from bluesy folk and old-school country to haunting Irish.

Tickets are $15 at the door or through Brown Paper Tickets, or call Bill Svendsen at 360-901-0962 or visit peninsulaartscenter.org/concerts.

The Peninsula Arts Center is at 504 Pacific Ave. N., Long Beach.

Wine, beer and other refreshments are available for purchase. Concerts benefit the nonprofit Long Beach Peninsula Acoustic Music Foundation.

Writers' Guild hosts poet Francisco Aragon at WineKraft

ASTORIA — For March the Writer's Guild has decided to celebrate the Association of Writers and Writing Programs coming to Portland this year with a special AWP reading featuring visiting poet Francisco Aragon.

The reading — taking place at WineKraft, 80 10th St., at 6:30 to 8 p.m. Tuesday, March 26 — will also feature other local writers participating in the AWP conference.

Aragon is the author of two books of poetry and a faculty member at University of Notre Dame, where he teaches creative writing. The AWP conference will be held Wednesday through Saturday, March 27 through 30, at the Portland Convention Center.

If you're going to AWP and interested in reading at WineKraft, let us know by emailing info@thewritersguild.org. Either way, we hope to see you there — it's going to be a fabulous literary evening.
