North Coast Chorale sings the 'Seven Last Words of Christ'

ASTORIA — North Coast Chorale performs "The Seven Last Words of Christ," a sacred cantata, at 7 p.m. Wednesday, April 17, at Clatsop Community College's Performing Arts Center, at the corner of Franklin Avenue and 16th Street.

The concert is a benefit for the PAC. A $10 donation is suggested.

"The Seven Last Words of Christ" is a rendering of Jesus' crucifixion and His seven last phrases, which are called "words" of Forgiveness, Salvation, Relationship, Abandonment, Distress, Triumph and Reunion.

This year the performance will be accompanied by Vincent Jones-Centeno on the PAC's Estey Opus-429 Organ. Phil Keim, Lois Willis and Elias Hesse, well-known Chorale soloists, are featured as well.

This event is brought to you by Lum's Toyota and supported by the Oregon Arts Commission.

Special services at Pioneer Presbyterian Church

WARRENTON — Join the Pioneer Presbyterian Church for special services on Palm Sunday, Maundy Thursday and Easter.

At 10 a.m. Sunday, April 14 (Palm Sunday), we celebrate the humble yet triumphant final entry of Jesus into Jerusalem with a service of exceptional music by violinist and composer Kim Angelis, soprano Bereniece Jones-Centeno and pianist Jane McGeehan.

Included in the program will be Angelis' composition "My Soul Magnifies the Lord," based on the Magnificat, which premiered at her "Music at Pioneer" concert last December.

At 5 and 6 p.m. Thursday, April 18, join us for a simple supper of soup and bread, followed by a traditional Maundy Thursday service of scripture, prayer and foot washing. The service will conclude with stripping the chapel of all decoration in anticipation of the passion and crucifixion of Jesus Christ.

At 10 a.m. Sunday, April 21 (Easter Sunday), a joyful service announces and celebrates the glory of the risen Christ. Musicians for the service are pianists Jane McGeehan and Kaisa Liljenwall, vocalists Cheryl Capellen, Terry Arnall and Wedgie Winchester.

The service begins with a triumphal procession into the church and the decoration of the church with flowers and Easter banners by the congregation. The music includes the traditional Swedish hymn "Thy Holy Wings."

The church is at 33324 Patriot Way, next to Camp Rilea.
