

Dial up some fun with 'Old Ringers'

ASTORIA — Come enjoy "Old Ringers," a timely take on how five down-on-their-luck seniors try to cope with a shrinking economy and their shrinking pocketbooks by opening up a home phone sex service! Shows are 7 p.m. Thursday and Friday, March 23-24; and Wednesday-Friday, May 29-31, in the McTavish Room of the Liberty Theatre, 1203 Commercial St. Tickets are $10.

Presented by the Liberty Reader's Theatre, "Old Ringers," by Joe Simonelli, finds women of (mostly) an advanced age in a comedy of often absurd outcomes. When Diane finds her Social Security check drastically diminished, a wrong number to a sex hotline opens the door to an adventurous financial opportunity. Joined by her friends — the frisky Verna, the trepidatious Kathy Ann, and the sensible Rose — and her carefree boyfriend, Harry, Diane and the group must navigate worldly challenges and personal discoveries while maintaining their sense of humor and avoiding the judgmental gaze of Diane's pious daughter Amanda and a roving Detective Rumson.

Tickets available at www.libertyastoria.org or in its box office, 2 p.m.-5:30 p.m. Wednesday-Saturday.

Call for art for exhibit honoring 'This Fragile Earth'

ASTORIA — Each year, Grace Episcopal Church honors the memory of longtime art instructor at Clatsop Community College and Grace Episcopal member Jean Barney with an art show with a special theme. Barney was a beloved teacher of oils for many years and inspired artists of all talents for many years before her death 10 years ago.

This year the theme is "This Fragile Earth, Our Island Home." Artists of all ages are invited to submit up to two pieces of their artwork to this show. Submissions are accepted from 2-4 p.m. Friday, May 31 in the Parish Hall at the church, 1545 Franklin Ave.. Art must not exceed 24-by -30 inches, be professionally presented and ready for display with no glass or glass edges or sawtooth hangers.

Judy Atkinson

The exhibit opens with a special reception at 11:30 a.m. Sunday, June 9, with awards given at noon. The exhibit will run from June 9 to July 9.

Entry forms are available mornings at Grace Church and at various galleries. For additional information, contact the church at 503-325-4691 or graceastoria4691@gmail.com
