

Local favorite The Hackles play at the Peninsula Arts Center

LONG BEACH — Local guitar and banjo duo The Hackles come to the Peninsula Arts Center at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 4. Admission is $10 at the door. To reserve tickets, call Bill at 360-901-0962 or email events@peninsulaartscenter.org.

Luke Ydstie and Kati Claborn have toured nationally and internationally as members of Blind Pilot. They are both from Astoria and met at a band practice in 2008.

They have played together most days since.

Their debut album, “The Twilight’s Calling it Quits,” was released on Jealous Butcher Records in 2018.

Wine, beer and other refreshments are available for purchase. The arts center is located at 504 Pacific Ave. North in Long Beach.

Concerts benefit the Long Beach Peninsula Acoustic Music Foundation.

The Hackles play at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 4, at the Peninsula Arts Center.

Folksinger, autoharp virtuoso comes to Astoria Library

ASTORIA — Folksinger, storyteller and autoharp virtuoso Adam Miller presents a free sing-along program of “Folksongs of the American Labor Movement” at 7 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 7, at the Astoria Public Library, 450 10th St.

This program features folksongs about the people who built America and their struggle to improve the conditions of their labor. Miller is the recipient of the prestigious 2019 Storytelling World Award. He has appeared at festivals across the U.S. and has a repertoire of more than 5,000 songs.

Miller is a masterful entertainer who never fails to get his audience singing along and accompanies his rich, resonant baritone voice with lively finger-picking acoustic guitar and stunningly beautiful autoharp melodies.

He performs over 200 concerts each year from the Everglades to the Arctic Circle. He’s performed live in more than 2,000 American public libraries.
