Celebrating music, aging at Hoffman Center

MANZANITA — The art of aging and music programs will present “This Chair Rocks: a Celebration of Music and Aging,” with two shows, both on Wednesday, at 2 p.m and 7 p.m., at Hoffman Center for the Arts, 594 Laneda Ave. Tickets are $10.

This show will provide comic relief for older audiences when the Ferrets, Jan Hamilton, Cliff Tuttle, Mickey Wagner, Gary Seelig, Michael Maginnis and Tela Skinner, perform songs from earlier decades of our lives with humorous lyrics altered for the aging community.

Liz Cole will join the mix with her rendition of “I Can’t Get no Satisfaction.” Rob Borgford, Sue McGrath and other community members will add to the fun as the show takes a trip down memory lane with music and humorous songs including “When I’m 104,” “Older Ladies,” “I Don’t Look Good Naked Anymore” and “Don’t Let the Old Man in,” plus an original song by Jan Hamilton.

Seating is limited.

An evening of folk originals

LONG BEACH, Wash. — Singer-songwriters and folk musicians Margot Merah and Timothy Hull will be in concert at 7 p.m. Saturday at the Peninsula Arts Center, 504 Pacific Ave. N. Tickets are $15. Beverages will be available for purchase.

Merah hails from the Netherlands and is based in Amsterdam. She has been singing and touring extensively around the world for the past 15 years.

Hull is a widely appreciated singer-songwriter from Whidbey Island. He too has toured over the past 15 years, bringing his songs, guitar, stories and humor from coast to coast.

Margot Merah and Timothy Hull's concert will benefit the Long Beach Peninsula Acoustic Music Foundation.

Haunting storyteller comes to KALA

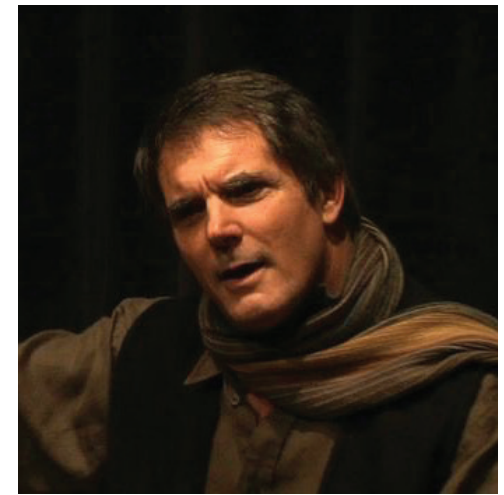

ASTORIA — Storyteller Will Hornyak will present “Hans my Hedgehog and Other Tales of Exile” at 7:30 p.m. Friday at KALA, 1017 Marine Drive. The show is for mature audiences, and tickets are $15 at the door.

The presentation is a compilation of haunting poems, songs and tales from the dark forests of imagination in celebration of the Celtic new year.

Hornyak is a featured performer at the National Storytelling Festival in Jonesborough, Tennessee.

He engages audiences with imaginative, well-crafted and moving performances. He’s worked at a newspaper in South America, been a fisher in Alaska, a carpenter, farm hand and university instructor.

For more information, call 503-338-4878.

Will Hornyak will present a collection of poems and stories at KALA.
