

Santa on tap at North Jetty Brewing

SEAVIEW, Wash. — The annual “Holidays at The Jetty” kicks off at noon on Saturday at North Jetty Brewing, 4200 Pacific Way. Everyone is invited to celebrate the season throughout the afternoon. This is a free event — food and refreshments will be available for purchase.

Take your picture with Santa and Mrs. Clause from 1-4 p.m. and shop from vendors all afternoon. There is not a sitting fee or purchase requirement to see Santa at North Jetty. Be sure to bring your own camera devices to take photos — staff will be available to fit the whole group in the shot.

Kilted Nutz from Vancouver will display their assortment of beer inspired items, purses, coasters and more. Beach House Teas will join the event and offer tea blends and bath salts. Marci Bennett will display Simpli Edible’s pies and goodies to buy on the spot or pre-order with her for pick up.

Local Happenings

Party and shop with a purpose

CANNON BEACH — Check out the Tolovana Arts Colony’s annual holiday gift bazaar, packed full of one-of-a-kind, locally made gifts. The event kicks off at 6 p.m. Friday at Tolovana Hall, 3779 S. Hemlock, and continues Saturday and Sunday from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Friday’s festivities include hot food, winter drinks and the first picks of the weekend.

On display and available for purchase will be an array of works from local artists and crafters including jewelry, house wares, fine arts, clothing, snacks, beauty products and more.

Gift buying at the bazaar provides support to local artists and crafters. Your purchases are a big deal — especially at this time of year. Come party and shop with a purpose!

‘Nature Matters’ on tap

ASTORIA — The Nature Matters series continues with a presentation from Ph.D. student Dorothy Horn, “Marine Debris and Microplastics in Our Watersheds.” The lecture will happen at 7 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 12 at the Fort George Lovell Showroom, 1483 Duane St.

New book honors coastal conservation heroes

SEASIDE — A new book from OSU Press, “A Generous Nature: Lives Transformed by Oregon,” profiles 21 conservationists and activists who have made enduring contributions to the preservation of Oregon’s wild and natural places and high quality of life. Author Marcy Houle will present an event at 2 p.m. Saturday at Beach Books, 616 Broadway St., to discuss and read from the book.

Among those featured in the book is Neal Maine, a founder of North Coast Land Conservancy and its first executive director. Maine will also be there to sign books, along with current NCLC Executive Director Katie Voelke, who will provide a glimpse of the future unfolding as a result of Neal’s legacy.

Beach Books is donating a portion of the afternoon’s book sales to NCLC.

For more on the book, check out our Book Monger’s review on page 23.
