

HEMLOCK ON TAP

ASTORIA — Fort George Brewery welcomes Hemlock, a Louisiana and Seattle-based performer. The show happens at 8 p.m. Sunday at Fort George Brewery, 1483 Duane St. All ages are welcome and there is no cover to attend.

Hemlock plays "Bedroom Folk Pop," a blend of blue, bittersweet, lo-fi bedroom folk pop from Louisiana with song-weaving and nylon-string finger-picking for the tender-hearted. This project is an ongoing exploration of what home is, of what home can be.

Hemlock will perform in Astoria on Sunday.

MUSIC AND HISTORY IN ONE

ASTORIA — Folk-singer, storyteller and autoharp virtuoso Adam Miller presents a free sing-a-long concert, "Folksongs of the Great American Railroad" at 7 p.m., Thursday, Jan. 30, at the Seaside Public Library, 1131 Broadway St.

This free program commemorates the sesquicentennial of the opening of the First American transcontinental railroad.

An artist whose kind has dwindled, Miller is a renowned old-school American troubadour and a natural-born storyteller. One of the premier autoharpists, he is an accomplished folklorist, song-collector and raconteur who has amassed a repertoire of more than 5,000 songs.

Miller is a masterful entertainer who likes to get the audience singing along.

For more information call 503-738-6742 or check out folksinging.org.

Adam Miller will perform in Seaside Thursday, Jan. 30.
