

MARITIME ARCHAEOLOGY SAILS TO ASTORIA

Shipwreck conference set for Saturday

BY KATHERINE LACAZE

Shipwrecks will soon wash to shore.

The Maritime Archaeological Society's 2020 Shipwreck Conference will be held Saturday. The event will give attendees an opportunity to hear from shipwreck experts and learn about shipwreck projects.

"Everything everybody is doing in their own backyard is of interest and contributes to the larger story of humanity's thousands of years of interaction with the sea, rivers and lakes," said Jim Delgado, the conference's keynote speaker.

Delgado is also a maritime archaeologist, preservation

If You Go

Maritime Archaeological Society's 2020 Shipwreck Conference

Columbia River Maritime Museum, 1792 Marine Drive

10 a.m. on Saturday

Tickets cost $45, or $30 for MAS members. Tickets are available at maritimearchaeological.org.

See Page 9

ABOVE: Jim Delgado, a world-renowned maritime archaeologist, historian and maritime preservation expert, will be the keynote speaker at the Maritime Archaeological Society's 2020 Shipwreck Conference on Saturday at the Columbia River Maritime Museum. LEFT: Delgado prepares to dive on a warship wreck in the Baltic Sea off Estonia.