

Award-winning blues guitarist to perform

LONG BEACH — The Peninsula Arts Center will present Terry Robb on Saturday at 7 p.m.

Robb is an acoustic blues guitarist. He is a member of the Oregon Music Hall of Fame and the Cascade Blues Association Hall of Fame.

During his career, Robb has received praise from Rolling Stone; O, The Oprah Magazine; and several music journals. In 2017, he was awarded the Cascade Blues Association's "Lifetime Achievement Muddy Award" after winning the association's annual "Muddy Award" 19 years in a row.

Admission is $20.

The concert will be held at the center, 504 Pacific Ave. N. Tickets are available online at brownpapertickets.com or by calling 360-901-0962. Concerts benefit the Long Beach Peninsula Acoustic Music Foundation.

Terry Robb will perform at the Peninsula Arts Center on Saturday at 7 p.m.

Singer Kelley Shannon.

Experience 'Decades of Love Songs'

ASTORIA — The Clatsop Community College Performing Arts Center will present an evening of love songs, starting at 7 p.m. on Friday.

The performance, dubbed "Decades of Love Songs," will feature vocalist Kelley Shannon and pianist George Colligan. Jazz songs will be performed.

Admission is $10. The concert will be held at the center, 588 16th St. The first 25 female attendees will receive a rose.

LGBTQ center celebrates new building

ASTORIA — The Lower Columbia Q Center will host a dance party Saturday night.

The party will be held from 8 p.m. to midnight at KALA, 1017 Marine Drive. The night will be a celebration for the center's new building, which is scheduled to open Friday, Feb. 21 at 171 Bond St. in Astoria.

The evening will include an evening of disco music, complimentary treats and a raffle drawing.

Attendance is $10 per person. Ages 21+ are welcome. Proceeds will go to the center.

Download The App

iPhone

Android

music first