MAINTAIN DISCIPLINE, THINK LONG-TERM, AND AVOID FADS

We know your friends and neighbors have “hot stock” tips to share. We know the ups and downs of the markets can make you woozy. We know it’s hard to tune out the noise. We help you maintain a solid footing by educating you about the most suitable longterm investments for you, and by teaching you how to distinguish real opportunities from dangerous fads.

Local artists create pet portraits as a fundraiser

BY ALYSSA EVANS

The Secret Gallery will host an online art auction to benefit Clatsop Animal Assistance.

Every two weeks, starting May 1, the auction's prize will be a custom and locally-made pet portrait, framed by Old Time Framing. Six auctions will be held.

The auction will be held through the gallery's website, thesecret.gallery/.

Funds raised from the auction will be split evenly between Clatsop Animal Assistance and the artists. Clatsop Animal Assistance is a volunteer-run organization that helps care for animals in the Clatsop County Animal Shelter.

“We are grateful to The Secret Gallery for coming up with this very clever fundraiser and for raising money for CAA for a second year in a row,” said Marcy Dunning, the group's president.

Last year, the gallery's owners, Chris Minnick and Jill McVarish, decided they wanted to start a fundraiser for a local organization after they hosted the 2019 Astoria Freak Show.

“We wanted to give back in some way to
