

A full-page background image showing a person in a black wetsuit standing on a sandy beach, holding a blue surfboard. The person is reflected in the wet sand. In the background, there are gentle waves breaking on the shore under a clear blue sky.

Surfing the Pacific

Words: Morgan Grindy • Images: Hailey Hoffman

If you're looking to surf, you've luckily found yourself near some of Oregon's most popular and safest surf spots. Surfers of all experience levels are welcome at the North Coast's Short Sand Beach in Oswald State Park and Indian Beach at Ecola State Park. Some are even able to find some waves at the Seaside Cove, the southern end of Seaside Beach.

Short Sands • Indian Beach •