

Sally Jean Maxwell
Lakeview
Feb. 26, 1946 — Oct. 27, 2020

Sally Jean Maxwell passed away peacefully in her home on Oct. 27, 2020, in Lakeview. Sally was known by her grandchildren as “Grammy.”

Sally was born in Astoria on Feb. 26, 1946, to Robert and Jean (Maunula) Reed. Sally grew up with four sisters and one brother, and graduated from Seaside High School in 1964.

She then attended Oregon State University, was a member of the Pi Phi sorority and graduated in 1968 with a bachelor’s degree in home economics. During college, she met Larry Maxwell and later married in the fall of 1968. She then began working on her elementary teaching degree.

In the fall of 1969, they moved to the Maxwell Ranch in Lakeview. Sally started her teaching career in 1969 as a third grade teacher at Bullard Elementary School, and later moved to Fremont Elementary School, and spent most of her career teaching second grade for 34 years.

Sally enjoyed playing golf, was a remarkable cook and delighted in preparing meals for her family, especially for cattle brandings. She was an avid reader and loved traveling to see new places, while spending time with her close friends.

Sally was a dedicated fan of watching her grandchildren compete in sports and rodeos, and cherished the time she was able to spend with them. As a second-grade elementary school teacher, she was known for her love of children and her quick wit and humor.

Sally Maxwell

Sally is survived by her husband, Larry; daughter and son-in-law, Jody Maxwell Graham and Dr. C. Scott Graham; son and daughter-in-law, Clark and Melissa Maxwell; and grandchildren Jack Graham, Brette Graham, Maxwell Graham, Miles Maxwell and Kara Jean Maxwell.

She is also survived by her sisters, Judith Wiswall (Richard), Andrea Flynn (Dennis) and Carolyn O’Leary (Jerry); brother, William Reed (Madeleine); and special friend Cathy Coleman (Steve).

She was preceded in death by her parents, Robert Reed and Jean Moore; and a sister, Rebecca (Becky) Reed Kiely.

A funeral service was held at St. Patrick’s Catholic Church in Lakeview on Oct. 31 at 1 p.m.

Memorial contributions can be made in Sally’s memory to Lake County Round-Up Museum, 438 Mountain View, Lakeview, OR., 97630 or St. Jude Children’s Research Hospital, 262 Danny Thomas Place, Memphis, TN., 38105.

OBITUARIES

Gary Dean Aho
Sun City West, Arizona
May 19, 1960 – Sept. 24, 2020

Our loving son, brother and uncle, Gary Dean Aho, unexpectedly passed away on Sept. 24, 2020, and our hearts are forever broken.

He is survived by his mother, Sally Shoop; sisters, Debbie Aho, Laura Germond (Brian) and Jeanine Oleson (Marina); nieces, Stephanie Baldwin (Nate, Ash and Owen), Kenya Kennedy (Spencer and Brayden); and nephews, John Padgett and Bryan Delfino. His father, Walter Aho, passed away on July 2, 1987.

Gary Aho

Gary was born May 19, 1960, in Astoria and attended John Jacob Astor Elementary School, Astoria Middle School and graduated from Astoria High School in 1978.

After graduation, he joined the U.S. Navy. After his discharge, Gary moved to Grand Lake, Colorado, and lived there for over 25 years. He initially worked for Rickenbach Construction Co., then for the Grand Lake Recreation District maintaining the golf course during the summer and ski resort in the winter.

He retired early due to a work-related disability. He worked for many years with his dear friend Janice Peck at the golf course, and spoke of her often.

He moved to Arizona in 2012 to be close to his mother, Sally. He loved golf, and won tournaments prior to his injury, loved watching sports, tinkering with his automobile and even built a University of Oregon Ducks golf cart. He enjoyed working on his house, and desired to live a quiet, peaceful life.

Gary was a great brother. On Debbie’s annual visits to Arizona, he spent quality time with her at the zoo and playing mini-golf, and loved her beyond measure.

He loved Laura so much for the amazing strong sister she was, and always felt close to her, like they were still playing Tonka trucks, tag football and riding motorcycles.

He was totally smitten when his youngest sister, Jeanine, was born, and loved how she made our family complete with her adventurous nature, outgoing personality and inclusive love. He looked forward to everyone’s visits to Arizona.

Gary’s greatest love was his mother, Sally. He spent the last seven years in Arizona with her, assisting in her daily living, sharing remodel ideas, gardening and discussing politics. He especially liked to spoil her dogs “Sophie” and “Peanut,” who now are forced to lose weight without their daily Gary treats.

He will be remembered for his loving heart towards animals and people — he never could tolerate an argument nor watch an animal suffer.

A celebration will be held at a later date. In his remembrance, donations can be made to Clatsop Animal Assistance.

Plant: Port working on a sewer system doesn’t cause bird attraction,” Wortmann told the Planning Commission last week. “It’s waste. And if you have good housekeeping, then you mitigate that risk.”

Planning commissioners appeared satisfied by Scoular’s efforts to prevent attracting birds. But they declined to approve the project until the company could address city staff’s concerns about how to accommodate the plant’s impact on a wastewater treatment system nearing capacity.

City code provisions require there be enough wastewater treatment capacity, or sufficient evidence that there will be, by the time construction on a new project finishes, said Spencer Parsons, the city attorney. The city has set aside 200-homes worth of future treatment capacity for the plant, but cannot turn away other approved developments seeking hookup.

The Port is designing and installing a pressurized sewer system that should significantly cut down on the large amount of tidal water entering the city’s treatment system from the airport.

But the city, the Port and Scoular have not finalized a development agreement to codify how the company will limit wastewater. The agreement would also allow the city to shut off the plant’s pipes during heavy rains if necessary.

“I don’t think you have a way to approve (the application) without the agreement in place,” said Collin Stelzig, the city’s public works director.

Scoular faces a system development charge of $260,000 based on how many homes the plant would equal in terms of wastewater treatment capacity, Wortmann said. The company wants some flexibility to analyze wastewater, figure out how to pretreat effluent and lower the system development fees, he said.

“If we have that flexibility, we’ll go ahead and pay the up-front system development charge,” Wortmann said.

The Planning Commission continued a hearing on the plant until December, giving Scoular, the city and the Port time to finalize the development agreement.
