

Gulley's to host underground tours during ghost conference

ASTORIA — Gulley's Butcher Shop will host ghost tours on Saturday from 10 p.m. to midnight.

Tickets are $15 for a virtual training and the event. To purchase a ticket, visit bit.ly/3r3uEcf.

Ross Allison, the owner of Spooked in Seattle Tours, will lead attendees during the event in the underground below the butcher shop.

He will be joined by paranormal investigators June Nixon and Jacob Rice of AGHOST Investigations (Advanced Ghost Hunters of Seattle-Tacoma).

Diana Gulley, the owner of the butcher shop, will join them to provide history of the underground, which has appeared on the Travel Channel's "Ghost Adventures," and will take part in the training.

During the event, the team will reveal the history and hauntings of the space and discuss the importance of journaling and equipment training.

The butcher shop in April will resume guided ghost tours. Visit Astoria Ghost Tour-Underground on Facebook or email ghosttour2020@gmail.com to schedule a tour.

The event is part of the Oregon Ghost Conference's Ghost Week. Other events through the conference range from virtual tarot readings, Haunted Seaside Ghost Tours, lectures, classes and an author panel. The week concludes Sunday night with the Astoria Ghost Walk led by Jeff Davis from 5 to 6 p.m.

Clatsop Community College gallery features large mural

ASTORIA — Clatsop Community College Royal Nebeker Gallery is displaying a mural painting through April.

The mural, titled "Tranquillo," was created by Modou Dieng and Devon A. Van-Houten-Maldonado for the 2014 Portland Biennial.

Dieng is an internationally-recognized multidisciplinary artist from Senegal. His work "explores the symbolic and mythological power of pop culture through mixed media and hybrid materials."
