503-395-1221 for an appointment outside of art walk hours or to participate in projects.

9. Imogen Gallery, 240 11th St.

Presenting creations by Deb Stoner, who is a photographer, researcher and gardener. Stoner's photographs are detailed and weave texture and color. Her prints are inspired by her passions for growing plants, collecting insects and choreographing still-life images. Stoner's work will be displayed until June 7.

10. Forsythea, 1124 Commercial St.

Featuring paintings by Monica Cameron in the show "Begin Again." The show is a compilation of works that "reflect on earthly renewal and the gentle creatures that inhabit it." Cameron will be present for an artist reception from 3 to 5:30 p.m.

11. RiverSea Gallery, 1160 Commercial St.

Showcasing the show "A STORIED LIFE: NARRATIVE ASSEMBLAGES" by Portland artist Dan Pillers. The show features carefully selected artifacts that were deconstructed, reimagined, then reassembled. The show "transforms a collection of mundane objects into a compelling and meaningful narrative." Pillers will be at the gallery from 5 to 8 p.m.

12. Oscar de' Masi Art Gallery, 1145 Commercial St.

Presenting new paintings, prints, art tiles, mugs and wooden boxes by local artist Oscar de' Masi; locally-sourced, hand-crafted furniture by Michael Demasi; and watercolor paintings by Karl Hauer.

13. Cambium Gallery, 1030 Duane St.

Featuring the show "Being There," by Nick Ciancibelli. The show features a "visual statement created in the realm of pure existence." Each piece is related to the "simple experience of just being there."

14. Astoria Visual Arts, 1000 Duane St.

Showcasing an Earth Day-themed show with pieces from Clatsop and Pacific counties. A variety of mediums were selected for the show. Regional plein air artist Dee Vadnais juried the exhibit.

15. The Labor Temple, 934 Duane St.

Presenting urbanscape painter J. Wesley Willis, whose oil paintings showcase Astoria's scenery. The show includes several new pieces.

Monica Cameron's show 'Begin Again,' is on display at Forsythea.

Deb Stoner's 'Delphinium Knotweed' is featured at Imogen Gallery.

'Self Respect' by Dan Pillers, shown by RiverSea Gallery.
