4-H offers two activities for youth

Registration is open for two 4-H youth programs.

A babysitting series, designed to train youth how to babysit, will be held via Zoom from 4 to 5:30 p.m. on May 5, 12, 19 and 26. The series is open to ages 10 to 19. To register, visit bit.ly/2PEH1Ps.

Youth can also participate in the 4-H Commit to Be Fit 30 Hour Challenge, which is happening throughout April. During the event, youth are encouraged to exercise and track their progress. Cash prizes will be awarded. To participate, go to beav.es/JjP and download the event's tracking sheet to log fitness hours. Forms can be turned in online at the website or at 2001 Marine Drive, Room 210 in Astoria.

Participants who exercise at least 30 hours will be entered to win $100.

Sponsors sought for soup bowl

The Harbor is looking for sponsors for its annual Soup Bowl, which is scheduled for May 1.

The soup bowl is an annual fundraiser for The Harbor, which supports local survivors of domestic and sexual violence. Sponsorships will raise money for the organization, as well as participating restaurants.

Event tickets will contain a pack of passes that can be exchanged for a free bowl of soup from participating restaurants with a purchase of $20.

More information is available at bit.ly/3mnNF8C. To sign up as a sponsor or get more information, call 503-325-3426 or email Jordan@HarborNW.org.
