

Astoria markets open for the season

ASTORIA — The Hanthorn Cannery Market, Astoria Sunday Market and North Coast Food Web's Small Farms Market Day are open to customers.

The Hanthorn Cannery Market at Pier 39, a new market, will operate from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Sundays through September. The market opened last Sunday.

The market features local photography, paintings, driftwood art, souvenirs and food.

Vendors who make hand-crafted products are welcome to apply. Booths will cost $15 or $25 per event, or $55 or $80 per month, depending on the booth's size.

The market will be ran by the Hanthorn Cannery Foundation.

Interested vendors can email hanthorncannerymarket@gmail.com or call 360-269-1039.

The Astoria Sunday Market will open Sunday and run from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Sundays through Oct. 10 along 12th Street.

North Coast Food Web's Small Farms Market Day runs weekly. Customers order food and plants before Tuesday at midnight. Items are available for pick-up in Astoria on Thursdays or via delivery.

The Ilwaco Saturday Market will run through September.

Ilwaco Saturday Market opens

ILWACO — The Ilwaco Saturday Market will run from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturdays through September at the Port of Ilwaco.

The market has ran seasonally since 2000. Visitors are expected to wear masks and follow social distancing guidelines.

Ezza Rose

Rock show set for Saturday

SEAVIEW — The Sou'wester Historic Lodge will host Portland rock musician Ezza Rose for a concert from 8 to 9:30 p.m. on Saturday at the lodge, 3728 J Pl.

The show will be appropriate for all ages and is free to watch. Masks and social distancing will be required.

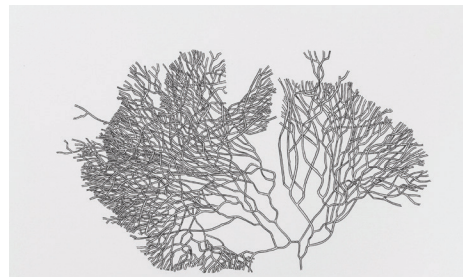

Instructor to discuss biking around Oregon

ASTORIA — Clatsop Community College's monthly Ales & Ideas lecture will be held virtually at 7 p.m. Thursday at facebook.com/fortgeorgebrewery.

Fernando Rojas-Galvan, Clatsop Community College instructor, will present "Bandits Biking for Books." He will share his inspiration and plans for a "July Bandits Biking for Books" fundraiser, which will include a 1600 mile bicycle journey where he visits each of Oregon's 17 community colleges.

Rojas-Galvan's fundraiser will raise money to cover textbook costs for Clatsop Community College students. He will travel starting in Seaside, then throughout the state, eventually finishing up heading north along the coast to Astoria.

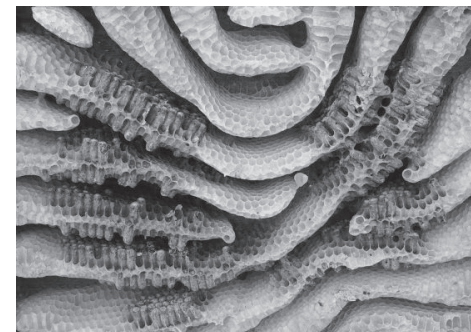

Participants will also learn about Rojas-Galvan's life, Oregon initiatives to lower textbook costs and options to sponsor local students.
