

OBITUARIES

Lenora 'Sis' Werner Chase Anderson

Tillamook
Dec. 11, 1930 — Sept. 13, 2021

Sis Anderson passed away on Sept. 13, 2021, in Tillamook.

Sis was born Dec. 11, 1930, in Mohler to Paul Werner Sr. and Georgia Johnson Werner. She lived in Mohler as a young girl in logging camp 4, until her family moved to Bayside Gardens in Nehalem.

Sis attended Nehalem High School where she was a champion ping pong player and also a head cheerleader before she graduated in 1948. It was Nehalem High School where she met Harold Chase, her first husband, and they were married in 1950. Sis was a waitress in Nehalem while also working at Nehalem High School as a secretary. She and Harold had their first son, Howard, in 1955. After their son's birth they moved to Corvallis to operate a restaurant they purchased. After their restaurant adventure Sis and Harold moved to Logsdan where Harold worked at a lumber camp for Georgia-Pacific. In 1961 another move was in store for the Chase family as they moved to Newport where they purchased a laundromat. Werner, their second son, was born at this time in Toledo, near Newport.

Sis and Harold returned to Nehalem and built a house next to her parents, Paul Sr. and Georgia. Harold returned to the logging industry in Nehalem, and then moved to Morton, Washington, for a logging job. This is where Sis discovered her passion for snowmobiling. In 1971 her husband, Harold, was killed in a logging accident. Sis and her two sons moved back to Nehalem and she became a school bus driver in order to support her sons.

In 1975, Sis married Dale Anderson. Sis and the boys joined Dale at his family dairy on McDonald Road in Nehalem. Sis continued her snowmobiling passion with Dale on Mount St. Helens as well as Mount Rainier. Sis also enjoyed clam digging and was famous for her clam fritters.

In 1979 Sis and Dale purchased the family home in Bayside Gardens where Sis spent a majority of her childhood. In 1982, Dale purchased a service station in Sumpter, and Sis was soon to follow after she finished her bus driving season. Both enjoyed gold mining and even invested in a claim located in Greenhorn. In 1985 Sis and Dale traveled to Alaska with family and friends and visited every county in Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Nevada and a few in California when they retired in 1995.

Sis was known for her kindness and hospitality and hosted Werner family reunions and smaller get togethers for decades. There have been five generations that were blessed to gather on the Bayside Gardens property, thanks to the generous and welcoming spirit of Sis and Dale.

Sis is preceded in death by her husband, Harold Chase; son, Brian Anderson; brothers, Paul Jr. Werner and Leland Werner; and sisters, Agibelle Werner and Mary Werner. Sis is survived by her husband, Dale Anderson; sister-in-law, Betty Widmer Werner; three sons, Howard Chase, Werner and Tonya Chase, Aaron and Celestine Anderson; daughter, Debra and Chris Carpenter; eight grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren and numerous nieces and nephews.

Graveside service is Sept. 25 at 1 p.m. at the Nehalem American Legion Cemetery, 10755 NeCarney City Road in Nehalem. Reception to follow at Sis and Dale's home, 11265 Evergreen Way in Nehalem.

Cynthia Louise (Johnson) Williamson

Pahrump, Nevada
March 9, 1956 — Sept. 15, 2021

Cynthia Louise (Johnson) Williamson left on another BART excursion on Sept. 15, 2021. Unfortunately, she is having to make this road trip alone. Hopefully, though, on this road trip she will be able to see her dad and other family members.

Cindy was born March 9, 1956, in Astoria. She grew up living in Svensen and attended school in Knappa. After graduating from Knappa High School in 1974, Cindy went to college at the Oregon Institute of Technology in Klamath Falls, where she met her future husband, Greg Williamson, her first day of school. They were married on March 20, 1976. They both pursued careers in engineering.

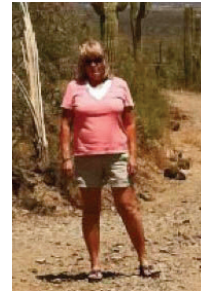

Cindy and Greg raised two wonderful boys, Milo and Travis. After both boys graduated from high school in the Seattle area, Cindy and Greg went on the first of three road trips. They loaded up their camper and headed to the Southwest. They both had a wanderlust and enjoyed their travels and sightseeing. They both went back to engineering a couple of times, then went on another road trip. They lived in several towns in Arizona and in Las Vegas, having some great experiences in all of them, both in their careers and in their personal lives.

When they both retired, Cindy and Greg moved to Pahrump, Nevada. This is where their home was when Cindy passed. They were visiting family in Oregon and Washington and were staying with a sister in McMinnville when she passed from a tough and courageous battle with cancer.

Cindy is known by all who knew her as a positive and upbeat person. She always saw the positive in things. This and her caring personality will be missed by all who knew her.

Cindy is survived by her husband, Greg; her mother, Ilene Johnson, of Knappa; son, Milo, and his wife, Crissy, and grandsons, Julian and Jacob; son, Travis, and his wife, Laura, and granddaughter, Kaydence; and siblings, Diane Kurtz (Larry), Valorie Vandehy, Mary Miller (Murray), Emily Simmons (Bill), Richard Johnson (Bernice). She was preceded in death by her dad, Richard "Bud" Johnson.

Debra Livingston

Astoria
Feb. 3, 1954 — Sept. 10, 2021

Our beloved friend and sister Debra "Debby" Livingston died tragically in a car accident in Astoria on Sept. 10, 2021. Her friends tell stories of her generosity, her political passion and her fervent desire to make the world a better place, through activism as well as through her work as a teacher.

Debby lived modestly and carefully, dedicating her free time to volunteer work to preserve democracy in our troubled times. We owe Debby a lot for her examples of hard work, and dedication to progressive social causes and social justice. She was a leader and an inspiration to others, although she didn't seem to realize that because of her innate modesty about her talents and sharp intelligence. It's a terrible tragedy that she was taken from us so suddenly, a shock that is deeply felt by the many people she worked with, the many students she taught and those of us who saw her sincerity and personal commitment as an example.

Debby was born on February 3, 1954, in Elberon, New Jersey, to Herbert and Corinda Levi, the oldest of four siblings. As a child she was a voracious reader, writer and budding musician. Debby attended Hebrew University in Jerusalem and then completed a degree in forestry at University of Michigan, and an advanced degree in philosophy. She became a Quaker hospice chaplain, and was committed to religious life and pastoral care, in a way intricately linked to her political activism. Her favorite Biblical quotation was from Micah: "And what does the Lord require of you? To act justly and to love mercy and to walk humbly with your God."

More recently, Debby was a teacher in Clatsop County. Her work with Indivisible North Coast Oregon was very important to her and she devoted countless hours to meaningful volunteer work, such as writing postcards to encourage people to vote, meeting with local politicians and writing articles. She was kind and compassionate, and had a wonderful sense of humor.

Her surviving family members include George and David Livingston, four nieces and nephews, including her beloved niece, Cory, and her adopted Astoria family, Sharon, Nancy and August, who will miss her deeply. She was predeceased by her sister, Lynn, in 2018, and by her parents.

Donations in her memory can be made either to Indivisible North Coast Oregon (www.incoregon.org) or to the Poor People's Campaign (www.poorpeoplescampaign.org). May her memory be for a blessing.

In action between 4A and 3A teams Thursday night at Banks, the Braves scored their first victory of the season, 25-21, 16-25, 25-11, 25-18, over Warrenton.

Banks improved to 1-6 overall, while Warrenton drops to 5-2. The Warriors take part in the OES Invitational, Saturday at Oregon Episcopal.

Warrenton led 10-3 in the first set following a block by Avyree Mieth and a kill from Paige Tingstrom, before the Braves rallied and outscored the Warriors 22-11 the remainder of the set.

The Warriors scored their lone win of the night in Game 2, in which Warrenton took advantage of three straight ace serves from London O'Brien, who served the Warriors to a 7-0 run and a 20-11 lead.

Miethe and Aaliyah Watson both had kills down the stretch for Warrenton.

Looking to extend the match to a fifth set, the Warriors led 11-5 in Game 4.

But Banks junior Madison Walker led a big Braves' rally with kills, off-speed taps and a block to help Banks finish the match on a 20-7 run.

In other 4A vs. 3A volleyball action Thursday, Yamhill-Carlton defeated Seaside 25-13, 25-14, 25-12. It was the last nonleague match for the Gulls, who open Cowapa League play Tuesday at Valley Catholic.
