

OBITUARIES

Catherine Jean (Endicott) Anderson

Warrenton

Aug. 9, 1949 — Dec. 2, 2021

Catherine Jean (Endicott) Anderson, 72, of Warrenton, passed away in her home on Dec. 2, 2021, after a hard-fought battle with leukemia and Alzheimer's disease.

Catherine was born on Aug. 9, 1949, in Astoria to Ellen and Bruce Endicott. She graduated from Astoria High School in 1967, and married Roble Anderson of Warrenton six months later.

Catherine was a longtime educator in the local school systems, serving as a substitute teacher for Warrenton, Astoria, Seaside and Knappa schools, and as a loved teacher at St. Mary, Star of the Sea School for 23 years.

In addition to teaching, Catherine was the camp fire district leader for Clatsop County, and volunteered for countless coaching and mentoring roles over the years.

Catherine Anderson

Catherine loved to be on stage singing and dancing — whether through a local musical theater production with the Astoria Performing Arts Center, or as part of the Little Ballet Theater's annual production of "The Nutcracker" with her husband, Roble, where they danced center stage as Clara's parents for 29 years.

She also danced with the Scandia Dancers, and served as the junior court chaperone for the Astoria Scandinavian Midsummer Festival Court.

Catherine is survived by Roble Anderson, her husband of 54 years; her daughters, Nicole Andergard and Jamay Hadley, of Portland and Warrenton; and her grandchildren, Issabel Andergard (19) and Orion Hadley (5). Her son, Trask, preceded her in death.

Raymond Stanley Daniels

Astoria

Feb. 14, 1936 — Dec. 3, 2021

Raymond "Ray" Stanley Daniels was born in Seattle on Feb. 14, 1936, to Evelyn Legge and Stan Daniels.

He went to Seattle schools and spent summers in Portland at his Grandpa Daniels'. He moved to Clatsop County when he was 14, attended Astoria High School, and graduated in 1954.

He married his first love, Phoebe Beelar, on July 26, 1954, and was married 67 years.

Ray was a hard worker. He worked in the woods. He was a member of the International Longshore and Warehouse Union Local 50, where he was a longshoreman for 23 years and a member of the Pensioners Group.

He fished the Columbia River for many years, and also fished Bristol Bay in Alaska and San Francisco Bay. While working as a longshoreman, his true passion for boats led him into fishing and boat-building.

After he never really retired, he developed a passion for sport fishing and crabbing, spending his days on the Columbia catching whatever he could on a given day.

He passed at the beach after a morning on his boat with his best friend, and an afternoon of clam digging with his wife and family.

He was preceded in death by his son, Ray Daniels Jr. He is survived by his wife, Phoebe; his daughters, Colleen Garwood (Spencer) and Cindy Glegor (Scott); son, Bob Broberg (Rita); eight grandchildren; and 13 great-grandchildren.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests that you make a contribution to the American Heart Association or the Assistance League.

A celebration of life will be held this spring, and will be announced.

Raymond Daniels

Dorothy May Myers

Birch Bay, Washington

May 26, 1929 — Dec. 4, 2021

Dorothy May Myers (née Lavigne) was born in Hillsboro on May 26, 1929. She resided with her mother and older sister in Altoona, Washington, before they settled more permanently in Astoria in 1931.

She lived in the same neighborhood of Uppertown, with a few short exceptions, until she was "Shanghaied from Astoria" in 1918, as she put it, by her youngest daughter and son-in-law to live her last years being pampered by family up on the U.S. and Canadian border.

Dorothy had many tales from her childhood in Astoria, growing up during the Great Depression. Post-Prohibition scavenging with her friends under tavern floorboards was a profitable venture, as loose change would spill from the pockets of bar patrons who stumbled and fell after one too many libations. This would pay for their matinee movie viewing at the Liberty Theatre, which had opened only a few years before she was born.

She also spent hours running through the forests with her friends, and playing down on the logs at the old mill pond, where the plywood mill was once located. Dorothy also never got around to learning to swim, so the latter activity was that much more terrifying, when you think about it.

Dorothy's first paying job as a young girl was as a field worker in the victory gardens, picking beans and berries for shipment to U.S. troops and allies during World War II. (According to her, she ate most of the berries she picked. Sorry, America). She later worked at the fish canneries, canning tuna and salmon.

Dorothy met and married her husband, Donald T. Myers, a sailor who had been stationed at the U.S. Navy base in town. They had four children together.

Over the course of her life, Dorothy was employed as a switchboard operator in the building that now houses a law office on Exchange Street, as well as working the switchboard out at Tongue Point Job Corps Center once they opened in 1965.

Later in life, she worked for Home Bakery and as an in-home caretaker to the elderly and disabled before retiring for good in the early 2000s.

Dorothy was involved with, and held office in various local clubs, including but not limited to the American Legion, Forty and Eight, La Societe de Femme and the Moose and Elks lodges. She was also a secretary for the Sunset Empire CB Club.

Dorothy left this realm peacefully on the afternoon of Dec. 4, 2021, at home in Birch Bay, Washington. She was 92 years old.

She is preceded in death by her husband; her eldest daughter, Roxanne Myers; her sister, Grace Larson; and her only son, Craig Myers.

She is survived by her daughters, Carrie Sue Ho, of Knappa, and Lisa Ann Curtis, of Birch Bay, Washington; and numerous grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

She will be remembered for her unconditional love for her children, her devotion to her pets, her killer red velvet cakes, her beautiful flower gardens, her dry sense of humor and her adoration of everything about Astoria.
