

A witch's brew

New coffee shop offers coffee, treats and more at Kit's Apothecary

BY M.J. CODY

"I just want people to feel like they're in a magical place," said Kirsten Norgaard, owner of Kit's Apothecary.

That magical place is the collection of eclectic shops downstairs on 10th and Marine Drive in Astoria where Norgaard (aka Kit) has expanded at street level with a new coffee shop and gluten-free bakery. She's also invested in two of the downstairs spaces, including Foragers and her own shop, Kit's Apothecary, featuring her vitamins, supplements, CBD blends and Swear Word Swag.

"It's hard to believe," Norgaard said. "It was just four years ago that I opened my first shop! All 250 square feet of it! And with only three products. Now look at me! I'm in heaven."
