North Coast Inclusion seminar to focus on equity in schools, community

WARRENTON – The Alliance for Equity in Education and the Regional Educator Network will host the North Coast Inclusion Seminar at Camp Kiwanilong on Saturday from 9 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

The seminar will focus on equity in local schools and communities, featuring a variety of speakers, including writer and artist Donovan Scribes. Workshop sessions focused on identity and inclusion will be hosted by a variety of individuals and groups, including activist Tessa James Scheller of the Lower Columbia Q Center, Clatsop-Nehalem tribe member Richard Basch, Clatsop Community College instructor Amanda Daniela Cortez, Tillamook Bay Community College faculty member Nora Karena, speaker and activist Michelle M. Osborne and more.

This event is free and open to the public. Coffee and lunch will be provided. Some activities will take place outdoors. For more information and to register, visit www.facebook.com/clatsopccccommunityed.

SOLVE Oregon hosts volunteer beach cleanup

PORTLAND – SOLVE Oregon will host a series of volunteer events as part of the annual Oregon Spring Cleanup on Saturday beginning at 10 a.m.

Sponsored by Portland General Electric, the Oregon Parks and Recreation Department and others, the events expect to attract thousands of volunteers who will remove marine debris, litter and invasive plant species across the state. Removing these items helps marine life, aids in water quality and helps ecosystems thrive.

Local events include the Gearhart Beach Cleanup, Peter Iredale Beach Cleanup and Cannon Beach Cleanup, each beginning at 10 a.m., as well as the Puffin Watch Cleanup at Cannon Beach, beginning at noon.

For more information, including a map of projects and information on how to register, visit solveoregon.org.

Seaside High School presents spring musical at Coaster Theatre

SEASIDE – Seaside High School will present a musical performance of “The Wizard of Oz,” opening on Wednesday and continuing nightly through Saturday at 7 p.m. at the Coaster Theatre Playhouse.

Directed by Ann Susee, the musical will feature a cast of 11 high school seniors alongside an ensemble of elementary, middle and high school students. The production features a few changes from the popular 1939 film, including additional music pieces.

Admission for the show is $10 for adults and $6 for students and seniors. Tickets will be sold at the door only. Attendees must provide proof of COVID vaccination and wear masks during the performance. For more information, contact asusee@seasidek12.org.

The Breakers Hotel, one of the nine properties featured in the exhibit ‘Grand Hotels of the North Beach Peninsula’ at the Columbia Pacific Heritage Museum.

Exhibit highlights historic hotels of the Long Beach Peninsula

ILWACO, Wash. – “Grand Hotels of the North Beach Peninsula,” an exhibit highlighting historic regional resorts, will be on display at the Columbia Pacific Heritage Museum through July 9.

The resort industry experienced extensive growth throughout the late 19th and early 20th centuries in the Columbia-Pacific region, with many hotels built to accommodate luxury entertainment and dining.

Landmark resorts included Seaview House Hotel, Hackney Cottage, The Driftwood Hotel, The Shelburne Hotel, The Breakers Hotel and the Long Beach Hotel. Many families traveled to these resorts for spans up to three months during the summer season, sometimes bringing along a family cow or horse and buggy.
