

Kids can ride their bikes in Warrenton's Fourth of July Parade.

Joshua Bessex/
The Astorian

Continued from Page 9

Live music during the event will be broadcast on a handful of local radio stations, including Clammy 99.7, KCRX 102.3 FM and Eagle Country 103.9.

Old-fashioned Fourth of July parade, Warrenton

Find an afternoon car show and tailgate at Warrenton's annual parade, held from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Monday at Robinson Community Park. Meanwhile, the Warrenton Firefighters Association will host a community barbecue, starting at noon at the Warrenton fire station. The barbecue and car show will run prior to the parade, which will take place along Main Avenue beginning at 3 p.m.

Fourth of July parade and fireworks celebration, Seaside

With one of the largest fireworks displays on the West Coast, Seaside will host an array of events to celebrate Independence Day. At 10 a.m. on Monday, a parade will begin, making its way through downtown streets. Later, catch the fireworks extravaganza at dusk, roughly 10 p.m. These events are free and open to the public.

Fourth of July book sale, Cannon Beach

Offering thousands of titles, the Cannon Beach Library's largest annual book sale will run from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday. Fill a bag full of books with the library's fill-a-bag sale, running from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Monday.

All proceeds from the event will benefit the library. Fiction, nonfiction, travel guides, children's books and cookbooks are just some of the genres available. Movies, music albums and audiobooks will also be included.

Fireworks free Fourth, Cannon Beach

Taking into account the distress that fireworks can cause for birds, wildlife and the landscape, Cannon Beach will host a fireworks free Fourth, offering itself as a safe haven for those looking to bring pets to the beach, set up a bonfire or spend a quieter time outdoors. The city will also host a parade, beginning at 11 a.m. on Monday, featuring children, bikes, vintage cars and walking groups.

Rockaway Beach independence parade and fireworks display, Rockaway Beach

Looking farther down the coast, celebrate with the Rockaway Beach Independence Parade, starting at 11 a.m. on Monday. After the parade, enjoy a plant sale, treat samples, a paintball tent and dachshund races. There will also be a flyover event organized by the National Guard.

With sandy shores nearby, it's a great spot to celebrate the summer, topped off by a fireworks display at 10 p.m., organized by the Rockaway Beach Volunteer Fire Department.

Griffin, a 6-year-old boxer belonging to Walter Lewis, of Cannon Beach, roams the sands at low tide near Haystack Rock.