

Singer-songwriter Emma Geiger will perform at Fort George Brewery on Saturday.

Fort George Brewery offers series of weekend concerts

ASTORIA – Fort George Brewery will offer a series of weekend concerts at the Lovell Taproom on Saturday and Sunday.

Singer-songwriter Emma Geiger will perform songs from her debut music collection “Haven,” on Saturday at 4 p.m., accompanied by Monica and Serious River Song Catalogue. Folk and Americana artist Alex Dunn will follow from 6 to 8 p.m. on Sunday, performing acoustic selections with a maritime flair.

Performances are free and open to the public. For more information, visit www.fortgeorgebrewery.com.

Americana musician Alex Dunn will perform in Astoria on Sunday.

BRIEFS

En Canto to perform at Cape Disappointment

ILWACO, Wash. – En Canto, a sextet focused on forro music, a fusion of Brazilian styles, will perform at Cape Disappointment State Park at 7 p.m. on Saturday.

The Seattle-based music group, consisting of vocalist Adriana Giordano, accordionists Jamie Maschler and Gabe Hall-Rodrigues, bassist Mike Catts, flautist Meese Tonkin, pianist Mike Withey and drummer Adam Kozie, will perform as part of the park’s summer folk and traditional concert series.

This event is free and open to the public. For more information, visit www.parks.wa.gov.

Seaside convention center to reveal new art collection

SEASIDE – A new collection of public artwork, including prints, textiles, woodwork and glass, will be unveiled at The Seaside Civic & Convention Center from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. on Friday.

The unveiling will take place as part of a community event, offering refreshments and artist meet and greet sessions for visitors.

This event is free and open to the public. For more information, visit www.seasideconvention.com.

Maritime Museum receives grant funding for new audio tour

ASTORIA – The Columbia River Maritime Museum has received an Oregon Museum Grant from the Oregon Heritage Commission, supporting the introduction of a new Spanish language audio tour within the museum.

Commission funding, awarded annually since 1965 as part of the Oregon Heritage Program within the Oregon Parks and Recreation Department, will support preservation, education and tourism projects at 12 museums this year.

For more information about the grant program, visit www.oregonheritage.org.

Dance competition to arrive in Seaside

SEASIDE – As part of the Spotlight Dance Cup, the Pacific Northwest Nationals will begin at the Seaside Civic and Convention Center on Monday, continuing through a series of competitions until July 17.

Events will include solo, duo and trio performances from a variety of age groups.

Performances are free and open to the public. For more information, including a full schedule, visit www.spotlightevents.com.

Community picnic planned for Nehalem

NEHALEM – A community picnic at Nehalem City Park will be held at 11 a.m. on Saturday.

Visitors are asked to bring chairs, blankets and other picnic supplies for the event, which will focus on the development of Rainy Day Village, a planned community for senior citizens.

This event is free and open to the public. Refreshments will be provided. For more information, visit www.villagesnw.org.

Tuba festival returns to Astoria with workshops, performances

ASTORIA – The 36th annual Northwest Big Brass Bash will take place at the Charlene Larsen Center for the Performing Arts on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Hosted by the Astoria Tuba Quartet, the weekend event allows musicians, ranging from high school students to veteran players, to hone their skills, and is dedicated to the memory of guest artist Harvey Phillips.

The event will include a recital showcase for solo and ensemble players at 3 p.m. on Saturday, featuring a lesson and performance by music professor Michael Grose. Rehearsal time will take place throughout the weekend, culminating in a group concert at 2 p.m. on Sunday.

These events are free and open to the public. For more information, visit www.hpnwbbb.org.