

Oregon poet laureate to read in Manzanita

MANZANITA – Anis Mojgani, Oregon’s poet laureate, will read from his works at Hoffman Center for the Arts at 1 p.m. on Sunday.

Mojgani is the author of five books, a libretto and a forthcoming children’s book. His reading will close the center’s monthlong poetry walk.

This event is free and open to the public. Registration is required. For more information and to register, visit www.hoffmanarts.org.

Oregon poet laureate Anis Mojgani will read selections from his works on Sunday in Manzanita.

Trail’s End Art Association invites submissions for show

GEARHART – Artists are invited to submit works to Trail’s End Art Association for the group’s 71st Annual Judged Show.

The gallery will accept submissions from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Sunday and Monday. Items accepted may include painting, drawing, photography, sculpture and mixed media. Selected pieces will be displayed from Aug. 5 to 27.

Entries are free for association members and $20 per piece or $30 per two pieces for nonmembers, plus additional sales commissions. For more information, visit www.trailsendart.org.

Cascadia Chamber Opera to perform ‘The Banshee’

ASTORIA – Cascadia Chamber Opera will perform “The Banshee,” an opera by Daniel Daly, at Charlene Larsen Center for the Performing Arts at 7 p.m. on Friday and 4 p.m. on Sunday.

The show will feature student singers from the University of Oregon alongside the Elsewhere Ensemble, a Eugene-based performance group. The opera tells the story of an Irish legend.

Admission is $20. For more information and to buy tickets, visit www.partnersfortheopac.org.

Acoustic trio The Musers will perform at KALA on Saturday.

The Musers fuse bluegrass, strings at KALA Saturday

ASTORIA – Acoustic trio The Musers will play at KALA at 8 p.m. on Saturday.

Presenting tunes from their fourth album, “Beautiful Mysteries,” the group will perform a set featuring the banjolin, mandolin and guitar. Their original songs are inspired by genres as diverse as Appalachian bluegrass, gospel, string music and the San Francisco folk music scene.

Admission is $15. Doors open at 7:30 p.m. A full bar is offered. To buy tickets, visit www.brownpaper-tickets.com or purchase at the door.