

‘Treasure the beach’ at Seaside cleanup

SEASIDE – Seaside’s Treasure the Beach cleanup event will offer locals and visitors the chance to contribute to a healthier shoreline, beginning at the Seaside Aquarium at 9 a.m. Saturday.

The monthly beach cleanup, coordinated by multiple area volunteer groups, provides trash bags and gloves to participants, as well as “cleanup coins” redeemable at local coffee shops.

Volunteers can sign up and receive supplies at the aquarium before setting out onto the beach. For more information, visit www.seasideaquarium.com.

Nerd out at the Liberty Theatre

ASTORIA – Liberty Theatre will present Nerdsdaynitelive!, an event featuring a series of tabletop role-playing games, in the McTavish Room at 6 p.m. Thursday.

The event, focused on interactive storytelling, will feature games such as Dungeons & Dragons, Alien and Call of Cthulu.

This event is free and open to the public. Doors open at 6 p.m. Minors must be accompanied by an adult. For more information, visit www.libertyastoria.org.

Community invited to ‘run for change’

SEASIDE – Run for Change, a 5K beach running event, will set off from the sands near 12th Avenue, beginning at 9 a.m. Saturday.

The race will continue south toward Avenue U before heading back to its starting point.

Cost for participating is $30 and includes a t-shirt. Entry costs will benefit Helping Hands. A registration table will open at 8 a.m., and registration is also available online. For more information, visit www.sunsetempire.com.
