HOOD RIVER IS BUILT ON A BLUFF

of the Columbia, and it is a big bluff; but don't get the idea that this burg and vale have no other foundation. We know how to slide our own trombone and pump wind through it, but "a fancy label and a loud spiel don't get the money—you have to deliver the goods in apples as in other things." And back of our claims are the demonstrated facts of a marvelous soil, water and climate producing fruit surpassing the Apples of Hesperides.

Objects to "News" Being Regulated
Editor News:
Incidents occurring at intervals during the year just closed render it apparent that the newspapers and business men generally of the city of Hood River are influenced in many ways by the impression that the organization known as the "Pine Grove Grange," in its various activities, represents and voices the sentiments and opinions of the people collectively resident in the territory known as "Pine Grove."

This impression was illustrated with convincing clearness on the Fourth of July last, in the action of the committee on awards. When an additional prize was asked for by those representing the grange, and strenuously insisted upon, the committee graciously yielded, disregarding their own convictions of what was fair and just, and assuming the extra burden imposed by the raising of additional funds. This was done, as members of the committee subsequently stated, for "business reasons," deeming it to the commercial interests of the city to maintain pleasant relations with the "people of Pine Grove."

The misconception again becomes apparent in your issue of the News of the 22d ult., when you treat editorially, with so much elaboration, dignity and courtesy, a communication said to be authorized by "Pine Grove Grange," in which that august body of wise and honest statesmen seek to regulate the political policy of the Hood River News.

Now, the writer does not wish to be understood as objecting to the action of the grange in the matter referred to. If it is a political organization, as its action seems to imply, it certainly has a consistent right to protest against having the "Assembly" plan annexed to the present primary methods of securing candidates for public office, and also, by its superior wisdom, direct the News editor clear of the rocks and shoals of grave political error.

It has an unquestioned right to make such application as suits its pleasure of the overworked quotation, "What fools these mortals be," and ascribe its parentage to the funny paper "Puck."

It exercises a glorious American privilege when it undertakes to flay the News editor for his political weaknesses, mental and moral, even though its criticisms glaringly display a disgusting over-abundance of verbosity of the cheaper and coarser quality.

As has been intimated, this writing is not intended as strictures upon the "Pine Grove Grange" for "pernicious activity" politically, but to impress the News editor, and many others who may be interested, that the organization named is not the voice, only in small, very small part, of the full-grown men and women of the district known as "Pine Grove."

The personnel of the "Pine Grove Grange" should be thoroughly known in your city, so that they might receive all the plaudits to which their meritorious acts and deeds entitle them; as it now is non-members are frequently the recipients of unearned honors, for which they haven't the slightest use. A SHORT PINK.

Upper Valley Lands.
I want more of them to sell. Every property excepting two that I have undertaken to sell, and that was listed with me, I have sold. My work is entirely in the Upper Valley. I believe in it and am personally interested in its settlement and in the well doing of my clients. This has been the basis of my success. At fair prices there will be activity and I believe holders of large tracts should let go of at least part of their holdings, because the country can't progress without people and people won't come unless they can buy.

Stomach Trouble Cured.
If you have any trouble with your stomach you should take Chamberlain's stomach and liver tablets. Mr. J. P. Klote, of Edina, Mo., says: "I have used a great many different medicines for stomach trouble, but find Chamberlain's stomach and liver tablets more beneficial than any other remedy I ever used. For sale by all good dealers."
