

NEW YORKERS MARVEL AT HOOD RIVER PICTURES

Chas. L. Coke, of Elmira, N. Y., a subscriber to the News and son-in-law A. O. Adams postmaster at Cascade Locks is a great enthusiast in regard to the Hood River Country.

The moving pictures of Hood River were on exhibition here recently and caused much comment. A few thought them "impossible and fakes" of course, but it is a great advertisement for the Hood River valley.

May the year 1910 be one of prosperity, both to you personally and to the News and the city it so ably represents.

Yours most cordially, CHARLES L. COKE.

After Cigarette Users

To check the growing cigarette habit among the schoolboys of Seattle, the board of education has detailed a special officer for the sole purpose of detecting the smokers and prosecuting the dealers caught selling cigarettes and "de makins" to the youngsters.

It pays to advertise.

Secretary Nickelsen's Report.

Hood River Ore., Jan. 18, 1910. To the members of the Hood River Commercial Club,

Gentlemen:—In view of the fact that the December meeting of the Commercial Club went by default, and that no meeting of the board of directors that served last year has been called to receive my report, I have been unable to make the annual financial statement to the club or directors as required by the by-laws of the association, I, therefore, tender my report through the columns of the Hood River News, and assume all responsibility for so doing. The following report is at the close of business Jan. 4, 1910.

Financial statement table with columns for GENERAL FUND, DISBURSEMENTS, PUBLICITY FUND, RESOURCES AND LIABILITIES.
