A. I. Mason went to Dufer Friday where he spoke before the fruit growers association.

Through an unintentional error in the account of the memorial meeting to Frances Willard which was held by the W. C. T. U., mention of the recitation so admirably given by Miss Eva Yates was omitted. The subject was "Edict of Sex" which was given by this talented young lady in a manner that excited the admiration of her hearers.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Nickelsen after a three months' absence, during which time they were in California, other southwestern states and old Mexico returned home last week. While in Petaluma Mr. Nickelsen made a study of the poultry business which is carried on there very extensively and discovered that this industry gives big returns. Thousands of chickens all of the White Leghorn breed are owned by Petaluma poultry raisers and net them as high as $2 per hen annually. When the chick-hens are two years old they are fattened and sold for food purposes. The eggs are delivered to the Petaluma market daily where they are bought up by dealers for cash.
