J. E. Higley returned from The Dalles Tuesday with a fine team and wagon.

Amos Root lost a valuable horse last week. It was the family driving horse, so will be hard to replace.

Judge Lake and two other gentlemen from The Dalles were down the first of the week to inspect the Mosier Creek wagon bridge.

MOUNT HOOD

A landslide on the grade north of the toll bridge has inconvenienced the people of the upper settlement. There is need of walling the upper side of the grade, letting the irrigation ditch take chances on being filled.

More water has been on the ground during the past ten days than before known in this vicinity. Water came down the canyon south of the Butte and followed the channel to the lower end where it scattered great quantities of gravel and stone covering Jesse Davidson's spring to a depth of nearly four feet. Water also washed through part of his clearing, making gullies in places to the depth of two to three feet. It followed the road to the so called Bone ditch and did great damage to the road.

Miss Lizzie Cooper and Miss Laura Purcell, our worthy lecturer and secretary respectively, attended the county convention of the Grange at Pine Grove Saturday last, and as it was the regular meeting they enjoyed the day exceedingly. They made the acquaintance of quite a number of Pine Grove people. E. C. Miller failed to make connections and therefore we only had two delegates.

W. B. Davidson expects to commence work in the Willow Flat district this week.

Quite a number of land seekers came up to Dee Saturday on an inspection trip. We hope they may find land to suit each one as a good future is ahead of us in these parts.

Joe Dimmick made a business trip to town, going part way Friday and stopping at Pete Odell's. He returned home Sunday evening.

E. W. Clark made a trip to Hood River Monday to see about storing his goods which arrived several days ago—the roads being bad for hauling at present.

Jas. Langille is somewhat under the weather and went to Hood River Saturday to consult a physician. Mac Rush and wife were in town Saturday.

PINE GROVE

Rev. Spaulding occupied his pulpit Sunday morning speaking to an appreciative congregation.

The Methodist quarterly conference will be held at Odell next Saturday and Sunday.

The W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. Clara Jarvis Friday afternoon of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin will spend the summer in the vicinity. Mrs. Austin is a sister of Mrs. A. J. Grow.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Seabee are visiting friends in Portland this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Slade's new home is nearing completion.

Mrs. John Johnson and children, also Miss Gertie Johnson, are visiting in the community.

Mr. Walker's people have vacated the house owned by Mr. Mark and will live on the property of Mr. Cutler, working for him this summer.

Mrs. E. Nickelson of Belmont visited her sister, Mrs. Campbell, Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Jarvis' family lost their good driving horse last week. Sam Campbell also lost a horse recently.

Zena Miller has just closed a six months' term of school and visited her parents last week. She has another school engaged for the summer.

Roy Brock, who has been ill for several weeks, is reported as improving.

K. of Ps. Celebrate Anniversary

To properly celebrate the founding of the order of the Knights of Pythias and also the organization of the Waucoma lodge No. 30 the members of the local order gave a banquet and entertainment last Tuesday evening in the lodge hall.

The affair celebrated the 46th anniversary of the national organization and the 20th of the local order and was largely attended. A program arranged by Arthur Clarke was admirably rendered after which V. C. Brock and M. H. Nickelson were presented with handsome gold lodge pins as a mark of honor for having been members of the order for twenty-five years. The presentation speech was made by Rev. W. C. Gilmore and was responded to by Mr. Brock and Mr. Nickelson, who expressed their appreciation of the honor conferred on them by their fellow members as well as their surprise permitted.

A supper such as only the Pythian sisters can serve was then placed before the merry knights, who feasted and indulged in the pastimes of good fellowship such as the order exemplifies.

UNDERWOOD

Mrs. Lena Chambers, who has been spending a few days with P. I. Packard, returned to Portland Tuesday night.

Mrs. A. J. Haynes and daughter, Fannie, came up from Portland Tuesday noon.

Mrs. F. S. Forest and the children came up from Portland Wednesday for a few days at the ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Hazelton spent Thursday in Hood River. The new house is nearing completion and we fear they have set a hard task for the rest of us, for we can hardly hope to have a home so complete in detail as theirs, at least, not until the orchard comes into bearing.

W. B. Ariss had a rather exciting runaway one day last week, in which he barely escaped being killed, and the team badly injured, but they all came out of it with a few bruises. W. B. will probably see that the tugs are unhooked before he removes the bridles the next time.

The people here are all on the war path at the prospect of losing the mail delivery. It looks like a case of the tall trying to wag the dog, for there are 142 people who will lose by the proposed change, and only 35 who will in any way be benefitted, outside of the party who expects to obtain the contract for carrying the mail on the new route, and who originated the scheme to change the route.

E. O. Blanchard of Hood River, accompanied by a Mr. Newcomb of Los Angeles, spent Sunday at Underwood and were delighted with what they saw of our country and expressed that this side offered better opportunities just now, especially to the man of moderate means.

At the school election held Saturday, H. C. Lowden was elected director for a term of three years, receiving all but two of the votes cast.

Geo. Darting is the busiest man in the community these days, as the unusual amount of water this spring has washed out the roads badly and in one or two places made them nearly impassable.

MOSIER

Mrs. Amos Root and Mrs. A. McLane were shopping in Hood River Friday.

Mrs. Lizzie Lambert came up from Portland Wednesday and spent several days visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Evans.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Chamberlain and J. M. Elliot went to Portland Friday to see the air ship make its ascent.

J. P. and J. M. Carroll were called to Portland Saturday on account of the death of Jake Yarnell. Mr. Yarnell suffered a paralytic stroke Friday which resulted in his death Friday evening. He was a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Carroll.

A. P. Bateham, H. G. Kibbee and J. K. McGregor attended the banquet at Hotel Dalles last Tuesday evening.

The measles are going the rounds at present and school has been closed for two weeks.

Mrs. Gove left Friday afternoon for her home in Hood River and will remain while school is closed.

John Armstrong and family left Thursday for their old home in Missouri where they expect to reside in the future.

Now that good weather has come everyone is busy clearing land and the largest acreage in the history of Mosier will be cleared this spring. As proof that we are being heard of abroad every day brings strangers here seeking homes.
