Confidence Begets Confidence

Its an inspiration to any business man to feel he has the confidence of his customers. It permits a range of buying that would be impossible unless we felt sure of having the best people behind us. We are depending on that confidence in an unusually strong sense this year, and have stocked our shelves and warerooms to the limit with the best and most comprehensive lines of spring and summer wear that the world's markets afford. The people of Hood River know where the reliable merchandising is done. We appreciate their confidence. We will protect it.
