BUILDINGS AND CAMPUS.

Beauty and Utility Combined at the College at Corvallis. The Oregon Agricultural college, which will celebrate its quarter century June 14, is located at Corvallis, on the Willamette river and in the heart of the beautiful Willamette valley.

The college grounds, consisting of 250 acres, are located within the western limits of the city. The campus proper, covering about forty acres, is beautifully decorated with magnificent specimen trees, flower beds and groups of shrubbery.

In place of the single brick building which housed the college in 1885 and which now serves as the administration building there are twenty structures, many of which eclipse in every way the original college home. On each side of it is a beautiful gray stone building, one of which is now called the chemistry building and the other mechanical hall.

... be prepared and planted with the flowers arranged in unique designs. The college colors will be much in evidence, and the buildings will be outlined with thousands of electric lights.

The Biggest Splash

A stone cast into a pond makes the biggest splash where it strikes. Same with news. It makes the greatest commotion where it happens. A fast fight in your block is more interesting to you than a battle of armies in a faroff country. Our paper is the BIG SPLASH for this vicinity. It gives you the home news as well as that of the world at large. ARE YOU A SUBSCRIBER?

FORTY CARS OF BERRIES SHIPPED

It is believed that the height of the berry season has been reached and that in a few days shipments will probably fall off. So far about forty cars of berries have been shipped out, the greatest number this early in the season ever known.

A good many growers in the lower valley should clean up their patches during the coming week. Berries from the Crapper and other districts, however, are commencing to come in and a few are also arriving from Mount Hood.

The scarcity of pickers is the most pronounced in the history of the business and in a few instances the fruit is stated to have been given away to those who would pick it because it could not be marketed.

So far prices have been very good for carload lots. During the past week they have been going at about $2.50, which leaves a profitable margin.

B. E. DUNCAN & CO. MAKE GOOD SALE

A real estate sale of interest during the week was the purchase by Mrs. Elizabeth Delano of 21 acres near Lentz station for $17,500. The sale was made through B. E. Duncan & Co. Twenty acres of the land was purchased from C. T. Rawson and one acre from the adjoining place belonging to Chas. Davis.

Another sale reported by the Duncan company was 40 acres from I. D. Smith to R. E. Harbison. Twenty-five acres of the place are improved, most of which are in bearing orchard.

Billy Sunday here Tuesday and joined Mrs. Sunday for a few days. Mr. Sunday has been holding evangelistic services at Bellingham, Wash., and has another engagement which will call him away shortly.

He is as much pleased with Hood River as ever and says that he will buy another 40 acres of fruitland if he can get it at the right price. A fine house will be erected on the place he owns and he expects to have one of the finest country homes in the valley.

At the close of the Bellingham meetings, Sunday night, which was attended by 16,000 persons, a purse of $4,746 was presented to the evangelist.

NIGHT FORCE TO MAKE HALLOCKS

R. E. Harbison, proprietor of the box factory is doing his best to provide growers with crates although the factory was forced to go out of business because it was not sufficiently patronized. Mr. Harbison is having material shipped in from outside and expects this week to put on a night shift to sew hallocks. To secure help he has raised the price of making hallocks from 40 to 75 cents a thousand. As a little experience allows even green hands to make 4,000 to 6,000 hallocks a day and anyone can do the work, remunerative employment will be provided for quite a number of hands for a couple of weeks.

OFFERS FREE WATER FOR FIRE PURPOSES

Dear Sir:—In view of the recent fire in the upper part of the city at which no water was available for fire protection and the danger of a recurrence, we wish to offer the use of our system there, provided hydrants of sufficient size are properly placed. Contrary to the general impression there is sufficient pressure on the hill to furnish considerable fire protection if the proper kind of hydrants are used. The Light and Power Company will allow any one who will do so to install hydrants on its system on the hill, provided whoever does so will maintain them and that they are installed by competent workmen, the hydrants to remain the property of those installing them and the company agreeing to furnish water for fire purposes free of charge. EAST SIDE GROWERS WANT EXPERT BUGMAN

A mass meeting of the east side residents will be held next Saturday in the Pine Grove Grange hall for the purpose of trying to secure an expert from the Corvallis experiment station who will become a permanent resident in that district. It is earnestly requested that every grower in the district attend the meeting as it is believed that the matter of securing an expert horticulturist is one of great importance.

The Bashi-bazouk. Like each of the various clans of the Kurds, the bashi-bazouk can easily be distinguished by his costume. His shoes, or "yemeyas" (meaning leather), are red or black. His goldlike stockings, which leave the knee exposed, are elaborately embroidered in black, his short Turkish trousers are of homespun, while about his waist is a short sash of wool or silk, surmounted by a leather belt in rich colors and embossed in red. This is divided into three or four sections, in which he keeps his revolver, his chibouk, or pipe, and his yataghan, always kept sharp. The bashi-bazouks never carry daggers, as the Circassians do. A cartridge box hangs from the side, as also a small silver snuffbox. They wear two jackets, the under one with short sleeves and the outside one with long. At the elbow is an opening in which they carry in a leather bag written quotations from the Koran as a talisman to protect them from the bullets of the adversary. About the neck is a chain of silver coins, from which is suspended a powder box.

A Straight Vote. The secret of the ballot is sometimes too good to keep. "George," said the squire, "did you vote straight, as I told you?" "Sure, O! did, squire. It said on th' paper to put a X, but O! moulded as how ye said 'voat straight,' and O! put un straight through un's name."—London Chronicle.

Many Heard Little Giant Clinton Howard, better known as the Little Giant, advocate of prohibition, was greeted by a large audience at the Methodist auditorium Monday night. Howard's subject was "A Joy Ride on the Water Wagon." As an advocate of prohibition in its widest application Mr. Howard was a success and gave his audience a talk that was both interesting and eloquent. He is making a tour of the country in the interest of the movement and recently spoke to large audiences in Portland.

Mrs. Howard Isenberg went to Portland Friday for a short visit before starting on a trip to Michigan.

Old Scottish Words. Here are a few quaint old Scottish words still used a good deal in East Aberdeenshire: "Mowse"—To say anything is use mowse means it is uncanny or dangerous. "Connached"—Spotted; clean connached would mean utterly destroyed or rendered useless. "Bland"—To bland anything would mean to soothe it. A child would be told, "Dinna bland your clean pita." "Gardies" or "Gaurdies"—A child's forearm. The last is a very old expression, but we have heard it used. "She bonnie gardies he has" means the baby has plump arms.—Glasgow Herald.

Dividing Something. A farm laborer in one of the western counties was requested to vote for a candidate at the election, but he refused. Being asked for his reason, he made answer:

"Why, because them chaps be well enough paid."

They then tried to explain to Hodge that members of parliament in this country were not paid for their services. But he was not to be convinced. "Don't 'ee tell me!" he replied somewhat angrily. "I believe my eyes, and when I sees in the paper as they divides almost ev'ry night I knows they be dividin' summat!"—London Tit-Bits.
