 Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Sutton of Vancouver, Wash., returned Monday on the Bailey Gatzert, after a ten days' visit at the T. J. Cummings home.
 Arthur Brown of Washington, D. C., who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pison, left Wednesday for a stay with relatives at Eugene.
 At the Unitarian church next Sunday evening, 7:30 o'clock, the subject under discussion will be "A Safe Fourth of July." It is expected that some of the business men will speak.
 E. H. Shepard, who is an enthusiast in raising peonies, brought in a bunch of these fine flowers Saturday of rare beauty. They were placed in the Butler bank, where they attracted a great deal of attention and admiration.
 Anybody having anything of unusual interest in the vegetable and truck garden line is asked by Secretary Skinner to leave specimens of them at the booth to be used with the Hood River exhibit in the Chamber of Commerce, Portland.
 A party of twelve people from Hutchinson, Minn., arrived here Tuesday and spent most of the day inspecting the valley in a wagonette drawn by a four horse team. Most of the party will attend the rose festival, and expect to return later looking for investments.
 County Judge Derby calls attention to the injury being done to the new macadam road on the west side by automobile scorchers who run over it at high speed tearing the surface loose before it has become set. He asks that more care be exercised in using the road by automobile owners.
 A large party of Iowa people were here last week as the guests of Mrs. Marion MacRae looking the valley over. Among them were a number of prominent citizens of the corn state. It is expected that they will return later to invest, after having had a look at the other fruit districts of the northwest.
 Oregon Life has its home office in Portland. It is the only life insurance company which confines its entire business to Oregon exclusively and receives preference from discriminating buyers of life insurance. Its phenomenally low death rate is a great advertisement for Oregon. Rates are no higher than other first class companies.
 Before leaving for Portland Prof. B. P. Stout who has spent the past week at White Salmon where he has been holding evangelistic services gave a farewell service at the Methodist auditorium Monday evening. The service was largely attended. Mr. Stout will conduct services at the Central Methodist church, Portland, this week.
 The Sunday school of Riverside Congregational church will observe Children's day at 10:30 next Sunday morning. A fine program is in preparation. No other service. Remember the time. Under the care of A. W. Monosmith the school has greatly grown and advanced during the past year and has been given an aim. The public is cordially invited.
 Miss Molly Stickney opens a kindergarten Sunday school June 19 for the benefit of those in town or from the valley who are desirous of having their children in work of this kind during the church hour. This offer may be taken advantage of by anyone having children of kindergarten age, whether they are regular attendants during the week or not. Miss Stickney will conduct the kindergarten Sunday school in the regular kindergarten room in the basement of the Unitarian church. The hours will be from 11 till 12:30 o'clock. The one condition is that each child bring from one to five cents to defray the expense of materials used. For further particulars phone Miss Stickney, 294M.

Chas. A. Hill of Pendleton is visiting the families of S. W. Arnold and M. P. Isenberg.
 The following representatives of Hood River chapter of the American Woman's League started last Sunday at noon to attend the annual convention at University City, Mo.: Mrs. J. W. Rigby, Mrs. S. E. Bartmess, Miss Marie Bartmess, Mrs. A. A. Jayne, Mrs. Annette Entrican, Mrs. C. E. Markham and L. F. Grimm. A large crowd was at the depot to wish them a pleasant journey. The badges they wore will carry a message of Hood River apples and strawberries to the middle west.
 H. S. Davis who was indicted for passing fraudulent checks on Hood River merchants was arraigned Monday before Judge Bradshaw at the court house by District Attorney Fred Wilson. Davis was brought to Hood River on the afternoon train by Sheriff Morse. He was represented by Attorney E. C. Smith and pleaded not guilty. His trial was set for the first week in July when the summer term of court convenes.
 A motion was also made by District Attorney Wilson to have the suit of Chas. Wentz against the county set aside owing to irregularities. The motion was opposed by S. W. Stark, Wentz's attorney, and Judge Bradshaw reserved his decision. A case involving the John Leland Henderson Company and C. T. Rawson was dismissed by Judge Bradshaw, having been settled out of court.
BRINGS SUIT AGAINST COUNTY
 due Wentz for copying the records, and that the cost of comparing and making corrections was $1180. The county charged the expense of comparing and correcting to Wentz and gave him credit for the $960.00, which left Wentz owing the county $219.40. Wentz claims it was no fault of his that the county had to compare the records, and when it did compare them, if it found mistakes it could not correct them and charge the expense to him, unless he was first notified of the defects and given an opportunity to make the corrections at his own expense, and therefore brought suit.
 The case, when at issue and ready for trial, will probably be tried in another county, as the jurors in this county would have to be tax-payers and are interested in the outcome of the action. S. W. Stark is attorney for Wentz and F. W. Wilson is representing the county.
